Guide to the Revolution of Values

Version 2.08 | 2022

Simon James

Welcome to Qortal,
Your portal to reality.

This guide is inspired by the art of Peter Joseph

"The real revolution is the Revolution of Values"

What do others think about this book:

*"This material is revolutionary.
We can't quite put it into words
how grateful we are for Your multi-generational contribution.
Old perspectives presented in new light restored the original Revolution of Values. From now on, we are creating New Earth!"*

~ Community

Be careful! This is the spoiler of life:

在人生的游戏中，善良总是赢家。道德总是最后笑。

Know, that You don't have to translate it. Everyone understands it. It is so obvious to You that the fact that at this moment You are reading these words. You are 100% certain that You are the "I am Here and Now".

If You understood this timeless truth.
If You solved the secret of life,
You don't have any more questions.

You are already resting as knowing absolute.

Good luck,
Have fun.
See You later.

I do not know,
except, that I know.

~ Simon James,
REON & Qortal OG

qort.io website. If You would like, I invite You to edit and change this material however You like. It is enough that on the front page You will delete my name and write Yours. I will still be grateful. This information is not mine, it belongs to the whole Cosmos. My body was just used by the Universe to restore the Revolution of Values that is essential if human civilization would like to thrive and prosper, and not fight for survival on this pale blue dot we called Earth. I actually need Your help because only together we can perform miracles. If You think this information is relevant and has potential, I am honored if You shared it. Personally, I like to print a few physical copies and just give them to random people as gifts at the right moments. Interaction means physical contact and communication, but not through the virtual communicator or masked face, but face-to-face, looking straight into the eyes.

My intention is to wholeheartedly wish You health and happiness, which means being content in the present moment. I hope this guide provided You with the foundation for living in the present moment, knowing that everything was, is, and will be fine. Nothing is important, and everything is important, simultaneously. Understanding of this nondual (that is seemingly dual) contradiction, which transforms into obviousness, generates immediate peace of mind and soul. Resting as the space of no words, no names, no definitions, no descriptions, and no opinion You know who "You" really is, and You know that everything is OK. You are always safe. You are always at home. Even if You think that the situation is hopeless, at the very end, everything positively surprises You.

1.0 The Golden Rules

"If You can't transform it from the outside, join it, and transform it from the inside out." ~ Simon James

Do You have a computer and a connection to the internet?

If yes, then in a very simple and smart way You can print Your retirement at home. This guide is Your personal instruction, explaining how You can join the Qortal Community, where everyone is their own, independent, decentralized bank. You don't have to ask government for permission. You just print Your salary and do with Your time whatever You want.

Qortal is the most interactive computer game in history. It is for free, and it absolutely doesn't require, and never will require, anyone to pay, buy, or sell anything. Everything is voluntary.

Qortal is practical initiator of global revolution; in our case, it is the Revolution of Values. Qortal extends the new era of the internet, providing the basis for the 3rd Generation Internet. It is a one-of-a-kind, unique platform which has the potential to bend reality, allowing us to provide a healthy, happy, and exciting future for our next generations.

You could ask, how is it even possible?

Let me explain...

4.1 Last Goodbye

I don't need anything to be as happy as I am already, and I am not looking to befool anybody, as it is totally nonsensical. I treat Qortal as an experiment for the human family. My only hope is that the Golden Rules of the Game will bring us to our senses, providing a practical solution to the problems generated by the old system. Thanks to this awakening, more people will be able to open their eyes and look around this beautiful world and the people that surround us without division and without judgment. If there are no volunteers seeing the potential of Qortal, then I will just continue living in harmony with nature and traveling the world as apparently humanity is not ready for true sovereignty, autonomy, automation, decentralization and the Revolution of Values. I will just be again in the next incarnation. I begin as You.

We have to build high-quality relationships and communities because the quality of our collective human experience depends on our connections.

If this guide inspired You or if You have any more questions, I am here to help. I am delighted and infinitely grateful that You went through this material till the end. It tells me a lot about You and it means that there is still hope. I invite You to provide constructive feedback on this material and correct mistakes. If You liked some of the text or quotes, share them at Your will. I don't care how this information will reach a wider audience. You can download this book in PDF, ODT, MP4 and MP3 formats from the

1.1 It is all my fault

"You always get what You want." ~ Alan Watts

Have You ever wondered how it is in this world that some people can "legally" print money while others are imprisoned for doing so "illegally?" Of course, the reason for that is to not be able to print an infinite amount of money, because the value of savings earned by hard-working people would diminish, which would disrupt the whole system.

Isn't that exactly what happens anyway?

Of course, money printing by the banksters is as nonsensical as money printing by ordinary people. We made up the greatest monetary game in the world and now we have to somehow save ourselves from drowning in this swamp.

We were born into a system based on the belief in the value of money. The banksters and their financial cartels, called "The Banks," are the biggest bubble and financial pyramid on Earth, which is collapsing at this moment. Every smaller or bigger crisis is only a proof of the instability of the system based on fiat money (lat. fides, meaning faith). Global currencies are printed without second thought, stealing the value of savings from ordinary people.

The money printing process is called "Fractional-reserve banking". Why is it so complicated and why do banksters use so much sophisticated banking jargon? So much so that people lose the willingness to understand what's going on. Fractional-reserve banking is the process of printing new money, which has to be paid back with a surplus, called interest. In a big, practical shortcut, the bankster is pressing "Enter" on the computer keyboard in the bank, and the new money is appearing on the account of the borrower. To pay back the full interest on the loan, the loan taker has to earn money from the people who took the loans after or before him. It is the only way to pay back the apparent debt. Paying back the full debt, of course, is never possible because money is created from the need to pay back the loans.

Money is debt.

That is how we are creating the biggest global pyramid, where somebody has to go bankrupt, die, or commit suicide to cancel the debt, which is impossible to pay off anyway. This effect is built into the structure of the monetary system. It is a vicious circle, similar to the game of musical chairs.

Qortal is in constant development, and Q-Chat soon will be available on the phones. Qortal is also creating a decentralized version of social media that will soon go public. As soon as the beta versions are available, the only contact with me will be by available through Qortal exclusively.

If You have any interesting ideas, questions or suggestions definitely let me know so that I can create Q&A Part 2

How can I find a sponsor?

In order to find a sponsor, You can either know someone is person with the level 5 or higher, or You can meet them virtually in a Qortal Group on Q-Chat, Telegram, or Discord. Q-Chat is the original messenger of Qortal, which You can use after creating an account. You can find an official Telegram Chanel at: t.me/qortalchat, and the official Discord at: discord.com/invite/54UyhB7

How can I communicate with You?

You can write me a direct message on Qortal through Q-Chat. My name is Simon James. If You however are still stuck in the old central internet, You can still write me an email at:

sjpq@pm.me

You can ask me about literally anything. I assume however that most of the questions will be connected to the Qortal Blockchain, finding a sponsor, or solving some simple technical issue.

If You would like to follow me on social media, on the old central internet, You can follow the Instagram profile of my wife:

@hackyourlifehere

As long as we are not banned by the algorithm, we will be bringing together a community of like-minded people.

The Game of Musical Chairs

The game is based on the idea that, for example, ten children are going around nine chairs to the rhythm of the music. At some moment, the music stops, and the children have to take a seat.

”First come, first served.”

Of course, one child will lose.

(Bum..., suicide from the debt.)

In the second round, we take one chair out.

The music starts playing. The remaining group is going around the chairs. Music stops.

Children have to sit. Ops, another child drops out.

(Perhaps this time will go bankrupt.)

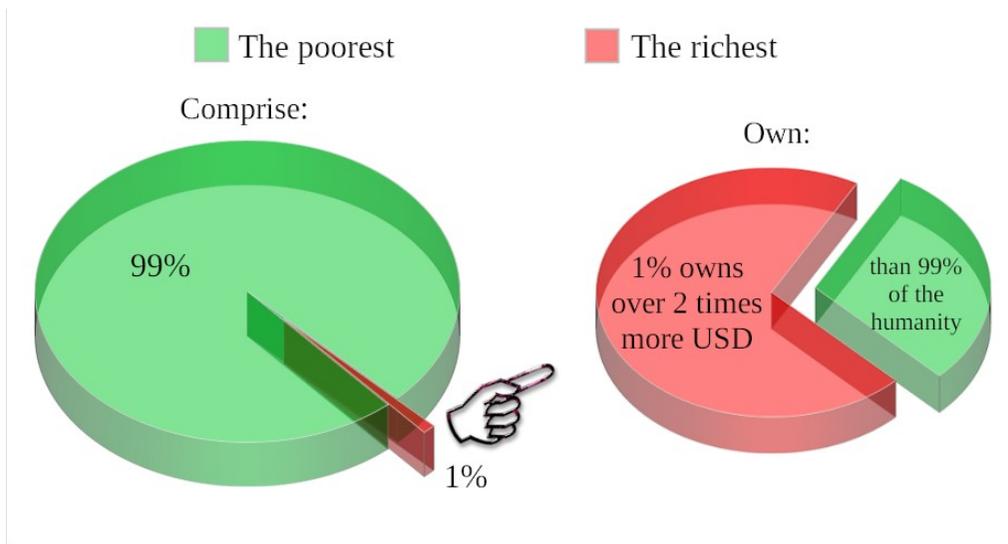

Music starts playing in the next round.

Music stops. The third child has to leave the house.

(Canceling the debt that was unwittingly inherited after the death of a distant family member is not approved by the judge)

And so it goes, until we have 1 winner and 9 losers.

That is where we get the statistics that 1% of the richest people in the world own more than two times the wealth of the rest of the population, which is 99% of all the people on Earth.

The average amount of wealth owned by one person from the top 1% of the richest people is 11 000 000 million USD, and it is only increasing.

If we pick 100 random people, 1 person from this group will be statistically richer than at least 60 people combined.

Every smaller or bigger crisis only emphasizes how the poor are practically not rising above the poverty line and the rich are getting richer.

How is it that we have simultaneous epidemics of obesity and starvation?

Is there something You avoid?

There is one thing I avoid like fire, and that is vegetable oil. Toxic fats like canola oil, corn oil, cottonseed oil, sunflower oil, safflower oil, soy oil, and so on... all hydrogenated fats are creating absolute devastation in the human organism. Because they are cheap and chemically preserved, they are used in most of the kitchens in the world. Every cell in our body is made from fat. If vegetable oils become part of Your brain or skin, don't expect that they will function or look healthy. This fat can become part of Your body, creating free radicals and cancer cells for up to 7 years. Vegetable oils are a tragedy and a symbol of the absolute lack of understanding of how our bodies function. I also avoid refined carbohydrates like white or brown sugar, and all wheat products like bread and pasta. I very rarely eat potatoes or rice. I avoid high fructose corn syrup, aspartame, stevia, and liquid candies like Coke, Red Bull, or fruit juice. I also avoid toxically unconscious people.

What type of fat are You using?

In the kitchen I use clarified butter called ghee, that I make at home from the butter coming from grass-fed cows. Besides ghee, I use MCT (c8+c10) from coconut, cold-pressed oils like olive oil, nut oils and lard from a local farmer. Those are examples of healthy fats that power and build my body.

What is Your favorite wallpaper?

Earth Rise on the computer, and TerraTime Live Wallpaper for my phone.

What do You eat most often?

Meat (stakes, poultry, game, wild fish, sea food), eggs (especially raw egg yolks), dairy, organs, caviar, high quality fats, fermented fruits and vegetables, onion and high quality salt. The rest of the food I regard as supplementary. It just so happens that those are the most healthy, nutritious foods providing bioavailable nutrition, vitamins, minerals, amino acids, and fatty acids that the human body needs for its proper and optimal function. I can live on them exclusively and maintain robust health without supplementation till the end of my body's life. Of course, quality is the most important thing. All those products must be organic, caught or raised in their natural environment, best in one's own backyard.

What do You drink?

Bone broth, tea with lemon, pinch of salt, BHB, and collagen, organic coffee mixed with ghee, MCT, mushrooms (Lion's Mane, Reishi, and sometimes Cordyceps) + vanilla. Besides that, water with ACV, Kambucha, and Yerba Mate.

Do You use supplements?

Sometimes I don't supplement anything. If I am taking something, I adjust it to my daily needs. Most often I supplement Iodine, creatine, l-thenine, zinc, magnesium l-threonate, Vitamin D (When my body is not exposed to sunlight) good quality Omega 3, NMN and various nootropicks like Bakopa Monnieri, Glinko Biloba, l-carnitine, , NALT, PQQ and so on...

Bravo! Please loudly applaud the winners. Those are the kings of the monetary game. Let's honor them by giving each one of them a diamond crown.

How is it that on our tiny planet the eight richest men in the world have more money than the poorest half of civilization, which amounts to 4 000 000 000 people?

How it is that half of the human population lives on less than $6 a day.

How it is that approximately 14 000 children die every day from preventable diseases, which is about 10 unnecessarily dead children every minute.

This is the current democracy.
Free market.

In the monetary system You are as free,
as Your purchasing power.

If You want to know the level of freedom You really have,
Try and go somewhere without the money.

The continuation of our monetary game will result in 1% owning 99%, and at the very end, 1 person owning 100%, and people getting only QR passes on their "smart" devices.

Smart indeed.

I hope You see the problems with the game, as we are drowning in this swamp, unable to scream for the rescue.
Dollars, Euros, Yuans, and all other currencies are an experiment from which we have learned that we have to change our approach to organizing life on Earth. We have to wisen up, updating our value system because it has become eclipsed by the greed. The old system based on money, trade, loans, and constant infinite consumption has reached its tipping point, as infinite growth is impossible on a finite planet.

It doesn't matter if You call it capitalism, socialism, communism, plutocracy, or global totalitarian technocracy controlled by AI in the hands of the rich. All of these systems have fundamental problem. They are still based on money and trade, which inevitability leads to the corruption

Besides the above, from classic to techno:

Tchaikovsky, Gershwin, Vivaldi, Pavarotti, Frank Sinatra,
Hans Zimmer, Julia Kent, Savage & Shē, Rufus du Sol, Paul Kalkbrenner, Worakls, Joachim Pastor, Pink Floyd,
Carl Cox, Boris Brejcha ...

I recommend this set:

Ecstatic Electro Techno Dance Party ft.: Alan Watts, available on odysee.com

When it comes to podcasts:

Ram Dass Be Here Now Podcast; Alan Watts's Audio
Lecture Collections; Bentinho Massaro's Mirror Talk's
Podcast; Ben Greenfield Fitness Podcast; Joseph Mercola's
Take Control of Your Health Podcast; Peter Joseph's Revolution Now Podcast; CarnivoreMD's Fundamental Health Podcast; or Siim Land's Body Mind Empowerment Podcast

What books do You recommend?

To be honest, reading books is not my style. I am much better at listening and watching. The books I recommend are encyclopedias, travel guides, and self-study guides: Ben Greenfield's Boundless; New Human Rights Movement, by Peter Joseph; The Best that Money Can't Buy, by Jacque
Fresco; Power of Now, by Eckhart Tolle; The Law of One
(The Ra Material); A Course in Miracles by Helen Schucman; and books written by Dr. Joseph Mercola, Dr.
Erick Berg, Siim Land, Bentinho Massaro or Joe Dispenza.

Drama:

Shindler List (1993); Pianist (2002); Requiem for the Dream (2000); ...First Do No Harm (1997); Shawshank Redemption (1994); Room (2015); The Revenant (2015); Shutter Island (2010); I Orgins (2014)

Propaganda from Crisis of Consciousness Era,
aka. subconscious programming of blindfolded masses:

In Time (2011); World War Z (2013); I am Legend (2007); Wolf of Wall Street (2013); Blade Runner 2049 (2017); Inception (2010); Transcendence (2014); Mr. Nobody (2009); Prestige (2006); Cell (2016); I, Robot (2004); Lucy (2014); V for Vendetta (2005); Maze Runner (2014-); Dark Knight (2008); Wolverine (2013); Watchman (2009); Edge of Tomorrow (2014); Snowpiercer (2013); Minority Report (2002); Avengers, Iron Man and James Bond.

When it comes to the courses, I would recommend:

Lifebook from Mindvalley and Sam Harris's Waking Up;

What music do You listen to?

All the Enigma albums, and especially:

Enigma - [1990] - MCMXC A.D. Limited Edition

Enigma - [2000] - The Screen Behind The Mirror

Enigma - [2001] - Love Sensuality Devotion

Enigma - [2008] - Seven Lives, Many Faces

Enigma is a soundtrack of my life, and life is another album on my playlist.

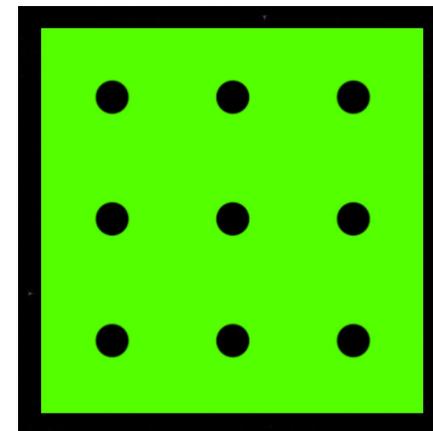

of the whole system. Corruption is greed. Greed for money, for power, for control. If we would like to eliminate these key issues, we have to get rid of their source, which is the belief in the value of money.

If You watch the problems presented in the media, have You ever asked Yourself the question, "What is the source of these problems?"

Maybe it is a protest to raise wages. Maybe the government is going to increase interest rates or some taxes. Maybe a desperate man stole something. The problems in the media are most often connected to the lack of money. Besides feeding people fear, the media are only describing symptoms generated by the system based on money, not even attempting to go outside their "in box" thinking to ask the real question.

Exercise:

Connect all the dots with four straight lines without lifting the pen from the paper.

(Tip: Try to do all the exercises in this guide as if Your life depended on it.)

Questioning the integrity of the whole system is not in the interest of the media, which is rewarded with money, when more people would like to know about more problems.

Human brain evolutionary adapted to pay more attention to the things that can kill us, rather than positive news. The media is using this evolutionary adaptation to constantly feed people with problems, moreover they are rewarded for it.

You see, it is not in the interest of the media, no matter if the media is coming from TV or the internet, to point into the direction of the source of the problem, by which we could solve it faster. The central media will never attempt to talk about the corrupt structure of the whole system, but will only describe the symptoms that the monetary system generates. In fact, they are the symptom as well.

Does art create reality, or does reality create art?

The media has evolved into the art of instilling a constant sense of lack, division, and fear in the minds of people. Everyday TV show called "The News" is a script, checked by the behavioral psychologists working for the central governments. The only purpose of the script is to keep everything the same, giving people the illusion of choice.

What are Your favorite movies?

Documentaries:

Zeitgeist Trilogy (2007-2011), Interreflections (2020-) and Culture in Decline (2012-) by Peter Joseph; Kymatica, by Benjamin Stewart; Samadhi (Part 1, 2 & 3); Living the Change (2018) and documentaries of James Corbett, Jacque Fresco, Ben Davidson, Dane Wigington or Janet Ossebaard

Adventure:

Into the Wild (2007), The Call of the Wild (2020), Cast Away (2000), Mummy (1999), Ultimate Survival with Bear Grills, Jumanji series, Pirates of the Caribbean, Jurassic Park, or Indian Jones

Series:

Black Mirror (2011-); Brave New world (2020); Planet Earth (2006); Cosmos (1980, 2015-); Revolution (2012); The Essential Lectures of Alan Watts (1971); Enlightenment is Possible For You - Bentinho Massaro (2020)

Scientific imagination:

Tomorrowland (2015); Interstellar (2014); Matrix (1999); 2012 (2009); Second Earth (2011)

Comedies:

Groundhog Day (1993); Truman Show (1998); Wall-E (2008); UP (2009); Palm Springs (2020)

Where are You from?

When I hear, "Where are You from?," I would like to say that we were born at the same place. We are souls in our current incarnations. We are all born on the same planet. Pitty division on countries is another creation of an immature chimpanzee. Why artificially divide humanity? Doesn't that lead to war and conflict? The idea of borders, together with the idea of money, creates an explosive mixture in our monkey minds. I regard borders as different states, and the only country I respect is Planet Earth. I am a citizen of the New Earth. I am a CNE. I am New Earthian. I even created QORTAL BLOCKCHAIN NETWORK NEW EARTH GLOBAL PASS from make.id that I am showing to the people that want to see my ID or Passport, explaining that the idea of borders doesn't apply to me and asking border guys if they are already accepting it and will just let me in. Of course it is a joke, but necessary one, until the stupidity of artificial divisions is realized and vanishes, than ID's of any kind are unnecessary.

Fortunately, You control this magic button on the pilot:

In the money-based systems we lost the authentic human trust. Just look at the commercials selling crap in the form of advertisements, which isn't anything more than psychological manipulation.

You can't even trust Your doctor, because You don't know if the operation to which he assigned You is really what You need, or maybe the doctor needs to pay off another mortgage.

How do You feel about planned obsolescence, which is a strategy in which manufactured goods break down after the guarantee period as fast as possible, forcing the buyer to purchase the item again, increasing GDP and profits for the corporation? Why should a corporation produce the best, strongest, and most efficient car, phone, light bulb, or any other product that is as durable as is technically possible, when the corporation will earn more money, when all products will break as soon as the guarantee expires? Why don't we have a working life-time guarantee for all products? If corporations would began to do it, they wouldn't survive in the monetary game of consumptionism.

Let's not even mention the stock market, or so-called "Wall Street", which is not doing anything to contribute to the benefit of anything in society. Wall Street is purely speculative gambling for the rich, where You predict the prices of stocks using derivatives. You basically buy stocks and put them on leverage, predicting whether the price will go up or go down.

Of course, the price very often goes up because we have constant inflation in all fiat currencies. The rich know that very well, which is why most of their money sits on all kinds of different investments, while poor people use fiat money, which most of the time loses value.

The game is rigged, and You are not in the club.

Akyaka, which became my second home. Instead of learning geology, I started intensive study of Chinese with courses like: Michael Thomas, Pimsleur, Glossika, or Chinese Pod. I recommend doing them all if You would like to communicate with half of our human family. By speaking in Polish, English, Spanish, and Chinese, besides communicating with most of the people on our planet, I can understand information without any interpretation other than my own.

Now I would say that I am an observer, a systems thinker and life-long learning, child-like curious scientist. I am traveler, guide and an artist. I named myself Simon James, and I serve God. The only thing I have to offer is the Truth. My real teachers (prayer and meditation) are: life, contribution, travel, sport, music, sun, cosmos, scuba-diving, climbing, mountain climbing, sauna, cold water plunges, psychedelics (cannabinoids, psilocybin, LSD, MDMA or DMT), observing my reflection in the mirror and guides like: Peter Joseph, Alan Watts, Jacque Fresco, Ram Dass, Rupert Spira, Eckhart Tolle, Jiddu Krishnamurti, Richard Feynman, Carl Sagan, Ben Greenfield, Joseph Mercola, Siim Land, Erick Berg, James Corbett, Bentinho Massaro, Vishen Lakhiani, Jordan Hall and many others, whom I am grateful to, and I owe my unique perspective of looking at the world. Now I mainly live in harmony with nature and explore new parts of the world. In between I am writing articles and creating videos on reon.pl, providing information which I would like to know in advance and which I would like to teach to my community and my children. Besides that, I am spreading the gospel of Qortal, inviting people to join the game.

probably discover the ruins of our advanced civilization covered in the ashes. We will just begin again. Maybe this time we will learn from our mistakes and be ready for the next end of the world.

What is Your education?

This question is irrelevant, but I will answer it for those curious. When I was a little child, I made my first conscious decision that I will not lose the unique curiosity and the ability to observe reality that I was born with. I noticed how it was obscured in the adults, so I resolved not to lose my ability to stand in awe and wonder. At the age of 7 I found myself in the elementary school with a sports profile, where I was training swimming. Then I played many sports like tennis, basketball, volleyball, and I trained at the gym. In 2016, I was one of the youngest people to finish an Ironman Triathlon. Around that time, I was also taking part in a few marathons. I generally commuted my entire life on the bike, listening to countless lectures, podcasts, audiobooks, and music that accompanied me during trips and training. At the age of 16, together with my best friend, we went on a bicycle touring adventure from Poland to Sweden. At the age of 17, I spent a year on Cozumel Island, living with Mexican family, where I developed a strong interest in pop astronomy and physics from teachers such as Richard Feynman, Carl Sagan, Neil DeGrasse Tyson, Richard Dawkins, Launce Krauss, and many others. After coming back from Mexico, I began studying geology at Jagiellonian University. I learned the scientific method, which was my main goal. After the first year, I went on a university exchange to Turkey, where I lived in the beautiful village of

It is estimated that the global derivative market has over 1 quadrillion dollars, which looks like this:

	1 000 000 000 000 000 USD
--	---------------------------

We can compare it to the value of all real estate which is estimated to be worth 280 trillion:

	280 000 000 000 000 USD
--	-------------------------

Global debt:	253 000 000 000 000 USD
--------------	-------------------------

Global value of all money:	95 700 000 000 000 USD
----------------------------	------------------------

Gold market cap:	11 000 000 000 000 USD
------------------	------------------------

Cryptocurrency market cap:	3 000 000 000 000 USD
----------------------------	-----------------------

"Comparing the World's Money and Markets"

The vicious circle has to be stopped, because the only effect of continuing what we are doing is to add zeros to the millions in the wallets of the rich. It is caused by inflation, the constant printing of money that is built into the monetary game.

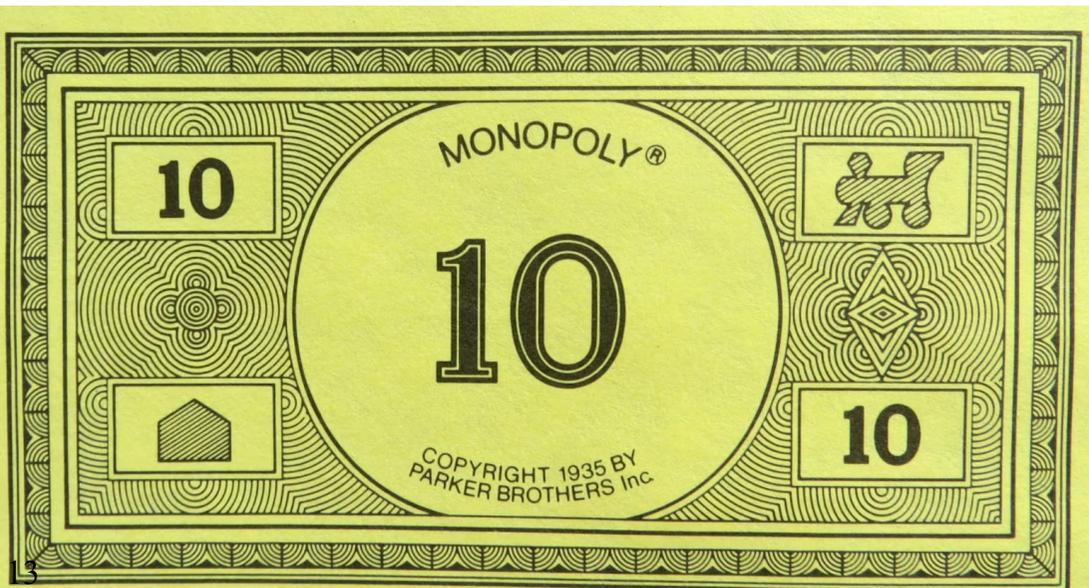

We don't need any more problems; we need a real solution. The real solution is to eliminate the underlying beneath this dense and deep swamp problem No. 1, which is the belief in the value of money.

Exercise:

Take a 10 dollar bill in Your hand and ask Yourself the question:

Is this colorful, official-looking piece of paper really worth it? Or is it worth as much as 10 written on a piece of paper from the game Monopoly?

I can guarantee that their value is the same.

flips magnetic poles. It not only has an effect on our planet but on the sun as well. Our sun increases its solar flaring, which means there are a lot of sun explosions in the form of CME's (Coronal Mass Ejections), which increases the probability that one of these bursts will hit the Earth. When we are during magnetic flipping, life on Earth is not protected by the magnetic field, so the sun's plasma can hit the surface of the Earth directly. If we see the Aurora all over the world, it will be the beginning of the apocalypse. If it will happen, all tools that rely on electric circuits will stop working. Nothing will work. All cars, airplanes, and satellites at the moment of a major CME impact will turn off. The grand problem is posed by the nuclear plants, that will probably blow up. There will be an absolute halt of human civilization. The law of the jungle will begin. Strong solar winds will trigger volcanoes and earthquakes. People who were fighting for survival too close to the coast lines will be washed away by the Tsunami Waves. Sunlight will be dimmed for years. The Earth will experience another Ice Age. Life has survived all previous cycles as it was not reliant on electricity. For our civilization, it won't be fun. The only humans that will survive are groups of people that can live without electricity and contact with the previously modern world. Independent groups of people who were raising or hunting animals have a chance of survival. Self-sustainable Tribes somewhere in the Amazon jungle, Himalaya, Mongolia, or Africa. Maybe the Tribes form New Earth will also survive. We will try to live as usual, just without electricity and without Qortal. That's why the only thing that matters is the Revolution of Values. Some tribes will be forced to resettle, and their descendants will

How long will it take to transform the old system into the New Earth?

For some of us, the New Earth is already here. Others will perish in this incarnation with no knowledge of its existence. The New Earth is Your choice between fear and love. The faster we wake up from the monetary hiccup, the faster we will eliminate unnecessary human suffering. The Great Awakening, or the Enlightened Civilization, is estimated between 2030 and 2050. The minimal critical mass has already been awakened, now we are experiencing the exponential growth. Just like I said, this century is a "Stone Age" when it comes to organizing life on New Earth. Nobody knows how it will look like. It is an unknown territory that we are bravely exploring. I hope that the final visions with automated drones, factories, and mag-lev train systems will take place before year 2150. Time is on our side.

Don't You think it is already too late?

No! It is never too late. Everything is possible. It is possible that every 12 000 years there is a Great Reset that takes place on Earth, with a partial reset every 6000 years. I am talking about the apocalypse that we are warned against by every ancient civilization. There is a theory that circulates around the Earth, and even Einstein was fascinated by it in his later years, that every 12 000 years our solar system, which is in circulation around a black hole in the center of our galaxy, is passing by recently discovered Galactic Current Sheets (I recommend a book written by Ben Davidson ~ "The Next End Of The World") . When our solar system passes through those sheets, the Earth often Both papers can serve the purpose of igniting the fire in Your fireplace. I wouldn't recommend using them as toilet paper, as they are too stiff, too short, and too dirty.

Belief in the value of money is the biggest global religion controlled by "the invisible hand"? No! By the money printers. (Anti)economists, banksters and their financial cartels, pharmaceutical cartels, technocratic monopolies, media oligarchy, and central governments are a new priesthood, spreading new propaganda of faith.

Their motto: "Divide and Conquer."

Money had a general positive impact on the advancements of our civilization, but now it is only a hindrance, blocking further development of our human family.

Green, officially looking papers are worthless. The only power granting them value is Your belief in their value. The balance of Your virtual savings account is also an illusion, which, looking at the global trends, is soon going to be reset to 0, and You will only get Green Passes.

It is inevitable that the total global debt has to be canceled because it is impossible to pay off anyway, and if continued, it will only grow to infinity. The price increase and lack of goods are part of the plan.

Central governments will use debt as the ultimate weapon.

If You have any loans, or You are on so-called social benefits, retirement, or You just don't have enough to go around, You can be ready that central governments will offer You "financial aid".

Governments want to bring in their own cryptocurrencies in the form of CBDC (which stands for Central Bank Digital Currency). The beta tests of these virtual currencies are taking place all over the world. Virtual currencies like the virtual dollar, virtual euro, and virtual yuan. The advantage of using central cryptocurrency controlled by the government is that it allows tracking of all purchases and is very practical for immediate change of tax policies. Governments can program the system where money granted from social benefits has to be spent within a certain time-frame as it can be programmed to have an expiration date. If You don't use it, You will lose it. This money will be only possible to spend by installing the central government app on Your phone. The app will also have Your personal data like "official" versions of Your ID, driving license, vaccine card, or passport. You will also be able to track Your carbon footprint. The best part of the app is the social score.

If You are a good citizen, because You are either arriving to work on time or choosing public transport, You will be rewarded and Your points will increase. If You on the contrary are a bad citizen because You bought too much meat, got a speed ticket, or were flying on an airplane, the app will punish You by subtracting some points. When You have a low social score, You will not be able to, for example, take a loan, or go abroad. If Your score is high, You can go to the front of the lines in the stores and

There are other projects like Pi Network or Circles UBI, but Qortal is the most functional and truly decentralized. One thing that I am certain of is that the old system has to go into the history books. This is apparently the journey of our civilization. I just hope that we can learn from our mistakes quickly enough so that we can save ourselves from the abyss of the black hole that is sucking us in. I really hope that we can wake up in time and notice who we are and what the hell we are doing before we provide ourselves with mutually assured self-destruction. Before we kill each other, I would recommend pausing for a minute and resting in the moment of silence.

Isn't Your description of the New Earth too optimistic?

It is true that the visions of the New Earth are very optimistic, but that's how it is here. From the perspective of the old world, any description of the New Earth will look like Utopia. Everything that exists has to first exist in the mind. The mind creates reality. The more precise vision we have, the more likely it is the reality. The most precise vision is to live on the New Earth together with us, and to be an example for others. Once You see and experience the truth for Yourself, You will never want to go back to bullshit. You will be terrified by the idea that some people are still stuck in the old system. Debt slaves. The only thing You want to do is to help them. Any description of humanity trying to organize life in money based systems makes a good horror story and all the movies created in this period will be regarded as such, as movies from the Crisis of Consciousness Era. New Earth is balancing us back to beautiful normal.

Is the game of Qortal another sect or religion?

Yes and no. It all depends on Your definition of religion and sect. If religion is something that You believe, because You cannot prove it, then Qortal is not a religion. If You believe in something because You think that thanks to it the world is becoming a better place, then yes. In my opinion, sharing and not expecting anything in return is going to make this world a better place.

Is Qortal not falling into the rule that the first one rips more rewards?

Yes and no. Everyone has to start at some point, and it is obvious that those that joined earlier just spent more time and have more QORT. It does not mean that they will always be first. Even the founders have to be synchronized with the network in order to mint QORT. Everyone can reach level 10, and we are all the same at this level. At level 10, we all have the same power. At the end, the amount of QORT doesn't matter. The only thing that matters is the Revolution of Values.

Do we even need Qortal at all?

Qortal wouldn't be necessary if our evolutionary path would develop differently. The belief in the value of money became more powerful than the belief in unconditional sharing with others. The old system is pulling us into the pit of despair, and the game of Qortal is like a rescue boat that appears on the horizon. Qortal is passing a helping hand. If Qortal becomes unpractical for some unforeseen reason, then I will be looking at another alternative that will be better at providing the OS for the human family.

governmental institutions, or You will be assigned more rations of meat. If You are rich, of course, You can buy more points so that You can still fly Your private airplane.

To be fair, those are not my ideas because this app exists in China already and works under exactly those rules. The Central Government app is a piece of software that will control and track You till the end of Your life. It is an absolute, dystopian, totalitarian technocracy. This app makes all dictators' wet dreams come into fruition. The final goal of the app is to collect 100% tax on everything. The only thing that the public will get is QR codes, which will be Your "Green Pass" to do what dictators and watchmen will allow You to do. This is the ultimate prison of the mind.

Fortunately for us, there is hope.

Thank You but NO, Thank You

The decision is Yours! You can either use central cryptocurrencies controlled by the governments, or You can be mature and responsible enough to take control over Your money. The only alternative to prevent this nightmare is possible by using truly decentralized cryptocurrencies like QORT from Qortal. Qortal offers something much more powerful than just a portal to make anonymous transactions through which You don't need the middle man, like the bank or the government.

Qortal is the portal to reality.

Qortal invites You to question the whole system. Seeing the world from a systems perspective is quite limited by our culture, which likes to put everything in the bubbles of small and big systems, not recognizing the unity in the totality.

The first bubble that Qortal is cutting right through is the monetary system bubble. Well played Qortal is like a precise laser beam, cutting right through the core of the problem, eliminating its source.

The biggest religion on the planet Earth, the belief in the value of money has become the disease of our civilization, similar to the tumor residing in the minds of the people. It is blocking human freedom, authenticity, goodness and willingness to share. How is it even possible to walk beside other people in need of help and not helping them? The old system anesthetized society to ubiquitous suffering. The only natural cure that can help us is to win in Qortal.

What is Your social function?

While working as a waiter in the Husafell Hotel in Iceland, I remember one summer when I resisted new restrictions that tried to force on my Free Will their mask mandates. I respectfully wrote a letter to the management explaining my objections, supported with a few scientific studies and a publication by Dr. Jim Meehan – "Why Wearing a Mask Makes Healthy People Sick." I was faced with two choices: one was being fired and the second was being a kitchen help. The only available position in the kitchen was a dishwasher. I decided that there was something I could learn even as a dishwasher, so I undertook the job. Thanks to the practice of dish-washing I understood one thing. My function on Earth is to take out this most horrible and awful dirt and food waste that is blocking the sink basin. After manual pulling of all the shit that is blocking the sink, the whole swamp is beginning to discharge. The most important thing is to get rid of the most dense part of the problem, which is the belief in the value of money. After final cleaning, the only thing left is beautiful, empty, shining sink. This emptiness is the Revolution of Values.

What is Your religion?

Loving kindness. Religion of no religion. I am an atheist in the name of God. I believe in Oneself, but more precise would be to say that I know ...?..., I know God, thus there is no need in believing anything. Everything that exists is already known by the ...I... observer. Observer is the observed. Turn attention upon that I. Who is the knower now? The closest that approached me was pointed out by Zen Buddhism, from the tradition of Advaita Vedanta.

4.0 Questions & Answers

Why should anybody even listen to You?

I do not expect anything from anyone. I am not interested in the opinions of others, or what they think about me. I just do what I know to be right, no matter the consequences. If someone sees the potential in this guide, I invite You to share this material in Your own way. I am simply the change I wish to see in the world, so I try to provide useful information and tools that I would like to be aware of in advance. It is purely egoistic stance. I am actually doing it all for myself.

Are You promoting Qortal for money?

Yes and no. Yes, because I know that when more people will join the network, minting QORT, the value of my QORT in the monetary game will also increase. No, because since 2015 I have been flying to Iceland for the summer season in order to serve food as a waiter. In April 2020, I rediscovered cryptocurrencies and invested all my savings in various projects. I kept them long enough so that they became a practical life insurance. It provided me the freedom to do what I want without the influence of the old system. Thanks to crypto, I saw the true potential of Blockchain Technology. In capitalism, You are only as free as Your purchasing power. It is sick, and Playing Qortal is a cure, with the potential to rescue us from this swamp. I don't need money because I am a #QQQ millionaire already and so are You. I am infinitely rich in the Organic Blockchain of the Universe.

To eliminate most of the problems of our civilization, we need to update our operating system to one that will function better on our monkey minds.

We need a transformation of the system, and Qortal is here to help. The effects of Qortal are both immediate, as You are blessed with subtle peace of mind when You know, at the back of Your head, that You are printing Your emergency life insurance at home. The real, long-lasting effects become a reality when we all win.

Qortal is the red pill from the Matrix, waking us up from the illusion of the old system. This medicine is what we need now more than ever. We need a new game, and Qortal is here to help.

If we would like to clean up the dirt of this world, it is enough that everyone cleans their own backyard. We do not have to use force to change the world; it is enough to use the power that rests within us. It is enough to start Playing Qortal, following the Golden Rules of the Game.

Victory for You is a victory for mankind.

You have to be careful as our common enemy, the ideology of "Divide and Conquer", lies at every corner. Don't be afraid. Know that in the end, everything will be all right.

The fate of this planet rests in Your hands.

Blue pill:

If You want to go back to the old capitalist game and earn money till retirement, Don't read any longer. Throw this book away and go back to Your life. Big Brother will surely take care of You.

Red pill:

If You are ready to wake up, You will wake up.

The choice is Yours.

with Your life whatever You want. If You are grateful for the goodness You have been gifted since birth, You can contribute to society by creating some new innovation or inspiring others. You just do what You know to be right. If You like computers, become a programmer. If You like biology, become a doctor. If You like science, become a scientist. If You enjoy art, become an artist. Thanks to Your unique input we can raise the collective human experience on this planet. After all, when Your body dies, Your soul will be reborn into another human that will use the innovation You left for Yourself. Let's continue the tradition of sharing for "God Bless You," which we inherited from our ancestors, and everything will come back to normal.

I hope that thanks to this guide You will no longer look at the problems of the old world as something that can not be solved. From now on, You will see that they were just the symptoms of a monetary game and absolutely disconnected from the reality crisis of consciousness. All the problems of the old system: all the conflict, war, crime, structural violence, division, crisis, collapses, uprisings, protests, fear, suffering, hate, racism, fake news, shitty products, stupid entertainment, manipulation, propaganda, advertisements, and corruption. The monetary system's emotional rollercoaster is only a promotion of a simple solution, which is enlightenment. Together with enlightenment arises the Revolution of Values, realized as sharing and not expecting anything in return, secured by Qortal's decentralized infrastructure. I hope we are evolutionarily evolved enough to start organizing life on Earth in a more sane and civilized manner.

1.2 Welcome to Qortal,

Your portal for making dreams come true.

"Utopia is the most stupid idea that man has ever come up with." ~ Bret Weinstein

If You choose to read this book further, then I assume that You are ready. That's why from the bottom of my heart, I would like to welcome You on New Earth.

Qortal is a necessary extension for every system based on money, helping You to restore sovereignty by allowing You to print Your money in the form of QORT at home.

In Qortal nobody loses because we all understand from the rules of the game that we are all equal, as we were born with the same amount of time. To join Qortal You don't have to ask the government for permission, or worry that someone will catch You, because Qortal is truly decentralized, and Your account is anonymous. Qortal is not asking about Your data. It is enough that You are a thinking individual, a natural person, a free human.

Qortal is a Decentralized Autonomous Organization (DAO), which is the newest form of organizing corporations and societies. Nobody is the owner of Qortal as it belongs to the whole community. Nobody asked me to become the "ambassador" of Qortal. I just noticed that it is the best practical solution that I am able to imagine for the problems of the old system. I am just sharing this information because I know that it is powerful enough to change the course of history for our civilization. I observe problems around the world and imagine possible solutions. Qortal is one of them. Qortal is a grass roots application built by authentic people who do not care about money. They just built the platform that serves our human civilization.

I invite You to get to know the story behind Qortal:

Banksters in America were giving hundreds of mortgage loans, from which people were building new houses. The newly built houses were standing empty, so the people couldn't pay off the loans. In 2008 it led to the financial crisis, where big corporations and banks were paid off by the government in the form of bailouts, and debt collectors took over the houses of ordinary people. In 2009, as a response to this incident, a new form of money was created. Bitcoin was a public comment, criticizing the constant printing of money and trust to the central banks. Bitcoin created a practical solution for the direct exchange of value between two people, without the middle man, like the bank. It became possible by using impossible to change records, which are stored on the new technology called the Blockchain. From now on, we don't need to worry that money we send will be lost, or won't be sent, because information saved on the blockchain is impossible to change, and You will see exactly what is happening with the transaction You are doing. Everyone has access to the public blockchain explorer, where all transaction data is visible. Blockchain technology eliminates trust for trustless technology, which means, a transaction cannot be made without saving it on the blockchain. This technology acceptance of new truth and adaptation to the new circumstances.

Remember, even if You are the last person on Earth to join Qortal, You are by all means welcome. More over, if You are the last person joining Qortal, only thanks to You we can all win. In the Game of Qortal, we can win in three ways. The first victory is Your private victory, the moment when You decide to use only the Real Currency of Qortal. Second Victory belongs to the local community. It is the moment when the first Tribe decides not to sell QORT and only use #QQQ. It is their private victory, and they become a living example of the potential that Qortal provides. The ultimate victory takes place when everyone on Earth is not selling QORT at any price, because we all understand that QORT is priceless, just like our time.

We act locally and think globally.

No one is too late or too early. Everyone has their own path to join our community and begin playing. If You won't join it, Your children will. Everyone on Earth has the same amount of time. Time is the most equal of all measurements. Qortal is the system that documents Your time in the form of QORT. Use Your QORT wisely, as You won't get Your time back.

Everyone of us was born a curious child, and because You already have Qortal, You no longer have to worry about how You will earn money. You know that Your salary is minted every minute. Qortal provides a basis to begin doing what game do You want to play. Do You want to keep doing "business as usual," which is old and disconnected from the reality monetary game, or do You want to try something new, even if it is just for today? Drop all of Your attachments, greed, expectations and try this:

Exercise:

Today, try giving and not expecting anything in return.

Everything new requires a leap of faith. Know that Qortal works, and we do not have anything to lose. When something doesn't go the way You thought it would, You are not losing anything anyway, You just learned something new. Blockchain Technology has a unique feature that might not be fully understood if You haven't experienced it in practice. True, decentralized Blockchain Technology, such as Qortal, does not require trust to function. Its embedded trustless mode of interaction ensures that all information saved on the blockchain is unchangeable once it is saved. If You are an IT specialist, hacker, or a programmer, You can check the Open Source Software of Qortal Blockchain that is available on github.com

What is required for most less technically oriented people is trust. Trust to me. Trust to the founders of Qortal. Trust to the people that understand how to confirm the trustlessness of Qortal, and trust to the whole community.

If I become aware of any issue with this platform, I will be one of the first people to speak publicly about it, as my unique feature is fast learning from my mistakes, provides the basis for the new value system where You don't have to trust any central entity. You just send money, data, information, or messages directly from the sender to the receiver in a decentralized way, through the matrix of a blockchain. All platforms built on the blockchain can be programmed in a unique way.

On the Bitcoin Blockchain, it is programmed that You can only mine 21 000 000 BTC, and it is impossible to change this algorithm. This built-in scarcity is what makes the price of Bitcoin to rise. The price of Bitcoin is simply the belief and hope of those who buy it that the price will rise.

The Bitcoin price chart only symbolizes the dysfunction and corruption of the whole system, blinded by capitalist profit. The Bitcoin Price Chart is a chart of fear and greed, created in the minds of those descendants of apes who try to somehow organize themselves on this planet. The fear of not owning a piece of Bitcoin, which brings FOMO and buying it at a high price, and the fear of price drops, especially while playing on leverage, is a game of emotions where the winners are the algorithms and artificial intelligence of banks and corporations.

Fundamentally, the price of Bitcoin is going to exist as long as people's belief that numbers with the ticker BTC sent from one account to another have any value.

Total Bitcoin Price Chart in USD

Bitcoin isn't without its shortcomings either.

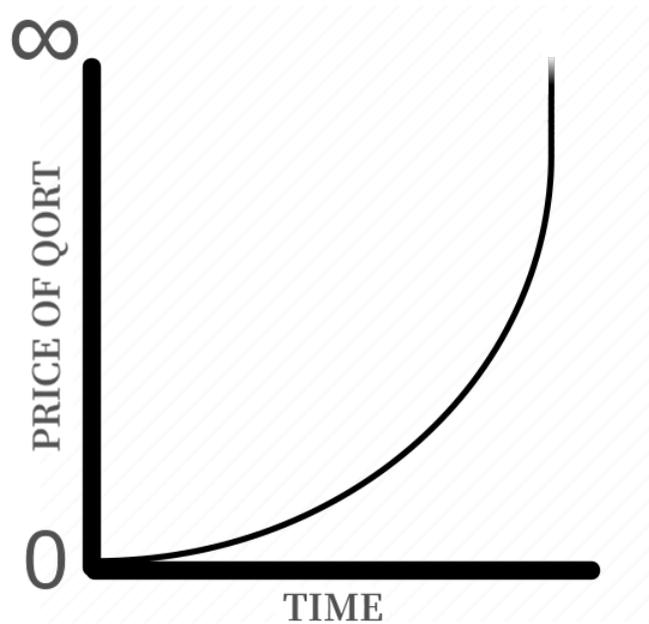

In the original vision of Bitcoin, outlined in the document called "Bitcoin Whitepaper", created by the anonymous person or group of people who called themselves Satoshi Nakamoto, Bitcoin was supposed to allow ordinary people to mine it on their computers using so-called "Proof of

Because You have peace of mind as You know in the back of Your head that You are not wasting time as Your QORT is now being minted at home, You regain the original freedom that You knew when You were a child and didn't care about money. You do not care what the price of QORT or Bitcoin is as they become a memory of the past. You just know that You can use this insurance in case of an emergency in the old system. At the very end, long after the Qortal is won, You do not even care that much about Your secret keys, because if You lose them, You are supported by the community and You can create a new account without any problem.

Time, which is the past and the future, is just a funny creation of human imagination. Reality can only be experienced now, and we can learn it by observing nature, plants, animals, and small children. Now is definitely now. Time does not exist. Time is an illusion, like Your ego that would like to sell QORT for any price, or Your ego that would like to create a patent for innovation and earn money for it.

Setting a selling price for QORT is Your choice, and I cannot judge it, as I do not know Your situation. What's more, if I were You, I would do exactly as You. Everyone born during the transition period is in one way or another connected to the old system. Maybe You are in debt and selling QORT is Your last resort. Rescue Yourself if You are forced by the old system. If You are fighting for survival, You will do everything You have to in order to stay alive. At the end of the day You have to make a decision about

In my opinion, the ultimate Price Chart for QORT will look like this:

This is an exponential chart, and it represents a very specific happening in our Universe that occurs very often.

I give the base timeline a period of 78 years.

The current speed of minting QORT for one person having level 1 gives around 5 QORT per month, but this pace will only decrease and the value increase as more people join the network.

Work". Mining Bitcoin is the only way to create it. All the bitcoins in circulation, which add up to around 19 000 000 BTC, were mined by so-called "miners" as a reward for making the whole network more secure. Satoshi's ill-thought out problem became apparent when it turned out that the miner with faster processing power could mine more Bitcoin. As a consequence, the miners began competing for faster graphic cards, and those who had more money to buy faster computers could mine more Bitcoin. From then on, it wasn't the one that was earlier, or had spent more time mining, but the one that had more money that had been rewarded with more Bitcoin.

That's how Bitcoin became pretended decentralization, which is really centralized decentralization, as all miners, with their Bitcoin farms using hundreds of millions of kilowatts of electricity, are creating the same problem that we have now. The new banksters, those who have bags of Bitcoin, mined them using energy resources that are vastly greater than the needs of many countries.

The use of energy in 2021

USA	3842 TWh
Russia	902 TWh
Germany	484 TWh
Poland	145 TWh
Bitcoin	129 TWh
Norway	124 TWh
Algeria	67 TWh
Venezuela	62 TWh
Czech Republic	58 TWh

It is estimated that in 2022, Bitcoin will consume 195 TWh of electricity and this trend will only grow.

It is ridiculous that some people in the world still live without electricity, and Bitcoin is nonsensically consuming electricity because of empty faith in its value.

An absolute crisis of consciousness.

Fortunately, some of those early bitcoiners realized the hypocrisy of Bitcoin. They organized with the purpose of fixing the problem, asking a critical question:

How, in a truly decentralized and sustainable way, should the wealth created by Bitcoin be distributed?

This is how Qortal was born. Qortal provides the answer to central decentralization, which relates to practically all crypto projects. Qortal's genius solution practically eliminates the possibility of profit, only because You have more money and You can buy the influence or graphics cards to mint more QORT.

Qortal didn't have an ICO or rich investors who bought the bags of QORT for cheap prices. Qortal started from 0. To begin Playing Qortal, You only have to have access to a regular computer with an internet connection.

I assume that in the XXI century those are marginal costs, as access to those tools is available to almost everyone reading this guide.

Well-built, trusted community is the only value that Qortal has to offer. Know that we do not care what is Your religion, what is the color of Your skin, what is Your sex, what country You were born in, what is Your diet or what is the status of Your vaccination. It doesn't matter. The only thing that matters is Your presence in this moment and Your ability to understand these words. Your presence is the only thing that matters. If You are synchronized with Qortal now, You are also present in our community and for that You are rewarded with QORT. QORT is the currency of time. Qortal is a portal to the New Earth and Your private keys are the keys that open the gate to Heaven.

In my eyes, Qortal is the most interactive game in the world. You are creating Your own money, which provides Your security when it is needed during the transition from the old system. If You need to buy shelter, healthy food, clan water, or an adventure into the unknown, sell Your QORT for the price You deem necessary to do what You think is important. You decide how many QORT You want to sell and at what price, but keep in mind that no one has to buy Your offer. There is a chance that some "investor" who does not want to waste time for printing QORT will buy Your offer, and You will be able to fulfill Your capitalist need.

Thanks to Qortal we all can come out of the vicious circle that forces us to work in a place we hate to earn money for survival. Your time is Your money, documented in Qortal. You can track all transactions made on the blockchain at explorer.com

Playing Qortal provides You with the opportunity to become part of a practical, original Revolution of Values. It all comes back to Your choice in every moment.

The choice between fear and love is Yours.

If You choose fear,
You go back to the capitalist game.

If You choose love,
Welcome back to New Earth

Qortal is a portal to decentralized reality, a restored value system, and the 3rd Generation Internet, which You can help creating right now, starting the node at home and synchronizing with the network. Even if You choose fear, You have nothing to fear because anything is possible, and the price of Your minted QORT will be worth something rather than nothing. I would like to invite You to qort.io, where we provide the files to download and instruction step-by-step for everyone. Begin minting Your QORT at home and become a part of the original Revolution of Values by playing the Qortal Game. In Qortal we believe that we are all connected, we are all equal, we are all family, we are all one.

With the Universe, we are connected by gravity.
With the Earth, we are connected by chemistry.
With nature, we are connected biologically.
With other humans, we are connected emotionally, physically, and virtually.

A computer doesn't have to be fast. Practically all computers are good enough and can join the network, approving transactions. Personally, I recommend the Raspberry Pi 4, which runs on free and open-source Linux software and uses as much electricity as a phone charger.

Qortal's brilliant solution is based on two unique proofs. The first of these is called the Proof of Contribution, where You are rewarded with QORT, depending on how long You are synchronized with the platform, confirming blocks and guaranteeing the security of the whole network. Qortal is the only truly decentralized project, which also solves the problem of greedy corporations wanting to create hundreds of accounts in order to print significant amounts of QORT.

It is prevented by the second proof, the Organic Proof of Humanity.

Playing Qortal is not an ordinary task. After installing the application and creating the account, You have to find Your sponsor, who has been connected to the network for a long time. You have to really talk with him and ask if he could sponsor You. You have to show Your interest and briefly explain that You understand the values of our community.

If You know him in person, You don't have to explain anything, because he knows what kind of person You are. It is a genuine recruitment for humanity that is difficult to manipulate.

Qortal is a platform where we are building a 3rd Generation decentralized internet. Real decentralization is important because it grants Your sovereignty. You don't have to ask anybody's permission or worry about censorship. You don't have to worry that Qortal will suddenly disappear because it is 100% the property of the whole community. Even if the founders of Qortal would like to stop it, it is not possible until the last person on Earth running a Qortal node and securing the whole network turns it off. It is already possible to build censorship resistant websites. From now on, You don't need a middle man to create Your domain and set up Your website. On Qortal, everything is saved on the blockchain called Qortal Data Network (QDN) and no central authority can stop it, delete history or do anything about it.

The possibilities are endless, but first we have to take care of the foundations. The foundation is love in the family. Love to Oneself, God, Your relatives and more distant relatives. Understanding that we all come from this one tribe that lived some 200 000 years ago on the African savanna.

Winning in Qortal makes the old system obsolete. Monetary game based on the belief that a piece of paper or virtual number on the screen had any value is written down in history books as another period of our evolution.

Of course, now, in the first half of the XXI century, we are at the transition point from money-based systems to a system that gives every human a possibility for an equal start. In our transition period, we have to be very resourceful and skillful, living on two levels at once. On the one hand, we still have to deal with the remnants of the old system while at the same time being an example on the New Earth, giving people trapped in the old system a helping hand.

Qortal is the most interactive game in human history. We will look back at the invention of the internet as something that allowed Qortal to get started. Qortal is like the most precise Swiss watch. Once started, it is impossible to stop as there is no central authority that can turn it off. There is no one that can be forced to do something, as Qortal is the property of everyone that joined it. For our next generations, not being synchronized with Qortal will feel as weird as walking naked in the city center.

Thanks to Qortal, we can provide freedom and sovereignty from the oppression of central, greedy, corrupt corporations, governments, and "power", as the money-based system cannot oppose the system based on love and gratitude, because they are operating on totally different spiritual levels. Qortal is a portal to the parallel world in our spacetime. It is a portal from Hell to Heaven. It is another octave. Different vibration. New Earth's Operating System. That's how You change the world.

It is only up to You to provide a better tomorrow for our children and to explore the most remote corners of the Universe with peace of mind. Exciting and full of surprises adventure is built into our DNA.

We discovered all the continents of our planet, and now we can extend our exploration to our solar system, galaxy and ultimately, the whole Universe. Let's find out how our brothers and sisters from other planets look like.

Everyone can only join.

The big problem with the second generation internet, which is the central internet that most people use every day, is the problem of data collection in order to personalize the content of the internet to Your personality. Technocratic monopolies like Google, Microsoft, Meta, BlackRock, Amazon, or Apple are experts in manipulating perception, so that You will spend as much time and attention as possible using their services. It might not be apparent on the surface, but those corporations do not offer their services for free. The real price is mining as much data and information as they can possibly connect back to You. Your data is collected and organized by supercomputers with AI in huge servers where it is assigned to Your serial number. All in order to know Your psychological profile so that they can influence Your decisions subconsciously, because You won't even know that You were tricked into making certain decisions. You are forced to accept certain terms and conditions to participate in the society. Just think about how many times You have typed anything on the Google search engine, used Google or Apple Maps. In the transition period, don't use Google, don't let AI read Your thoughts, use something safer, like Duckduckgo or Quant.

If You never paid attention to Your privacy and anonymity, You can be certain that AI has Your psychological profile and is actively using it against Your Will.

It is a psychological war.

Let's say that technocratic cartels would like You to use their services even more and would like You to give them even more data. They can use their Aladdin Oracle (which is part of AI, which estimates potential global outcomes with only one goal, which is the profit of the BlackRock Corporation). The Oracle may suggest that the best thing would be to generate a global state of fear in the form of a pandemic, so that people would be locked at homes and forced to do everything virtually. All main media sources, both form TV and internet are sponsored and controlled by them anyway.

Censorship of free speech and constructive criticism was the norm...

Description of the problems is only a symptom of a child born into the system based on the belief that it has to win in the game of musical chairs, briefly becoming the ruler of this rock revolving around the sun. The disappointment happens when the moment of glory passes within the blink of an eye.

Qortal is an impulse that awakens from the ignorance and helplessness of the dumbfounded masses. The decentralized infrastructure of the 3rd Generation Internet doesn't have an owner in the form of a corporation, because it belongs to everyone who joined the network and actively creates it. The impossibility of data and information manipulation has been built into the structure of the 3rd Generation Internet from the very beginning.

At the beginning, it is enough to support local farmers. You can start thinking about a small garden or animal husbandry. It is good to create and support local markets, where You might offer to pay in QORT. What is QORT? You can share a link to qort.io or gift this material. Let's change what we can, and let's paint the rest. Everyone is doing the best they can with what they have. Let's fake it until we make it. Sharing and not expecting anything in return is actually not fake at all. There is nothing more real than unconditional and outrageous acts of love. It synchronizes You with the Organic Blockchain of the Universe. You feel unconditional pleasure and gratitude of existence. You can just try it and feel it for Yourself.

When it comes to the Tribes, we don't have to start right away, with a perfect model of a village because it doesn't exist. There are however good examples of groups that began organizing in America, like Freedom Cells Network or Konos, Community-Sufficient Tribe.

It all starts slowly, one by one, and with intention. Now our human civilization is at the "Stone Age Era" when it comes to the organization of life on New Earth. We are so early that the 3rd Generation Internet has barely started. We are the pioneers, bravely entering into the unknown.

A journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step.

The Qortal Blockchain Platform provides organizational infrastructure for the entire human family. After joining the network, You will not only be able to reach new levels, but also be able to take part in Decentralized Blockchain Democracy (DBD), which is a form of Direct Democracy where You can be certain that Your vote is counted and has power. If You have any interesting ideas, You can also present them to the community and propose a ballot.

Voting for presidents, kings, or prime ministers in the monetary systems was such a pitiful illusion of choice that I felt very sorry for the people who thought they lived in democracy and that the government worked for society rather than the other way around. If voting made any difference, the money printers wouldn't let You do it. Government is necessary to organize society, but no one said it has to be central government, like it looks in the old system. Central power in the hands of a few key figures inevitably leads to corruption. Corruption is not something that can be overcome with better regulation; it is an inevitable side effect, a negative externality, of any system based on money and trade. At least that is the case for our human-monkey minds. If we would like to finally solve this system error, we have to eliminate its underlying cause, which is the belief in the value of money. We have to transform the whole system.

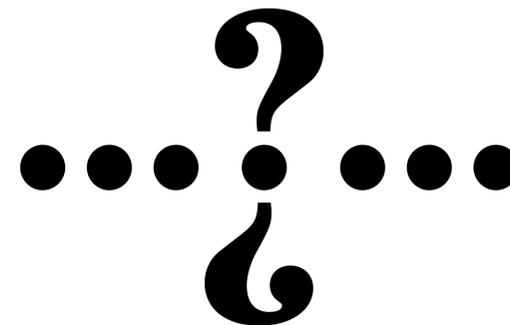

QORT represents both money and Your time. QORT is a Proof of Time or, better yet, a Proof of Contribution for making sure the whole network is more decentralized and more secure.

Just imagine how unbelievable it had to be when somebody in 2009 mined 20 Bitcoin on his laptop, at that time worth around 5 USD per piece, and set a selling price of 60 000 USD per one BTC. The funny thing is that this person sold it in 2021. This 20 bitcoin was mined on the laptop of an early hacker, programmer, or early bitcoiner "for free." Yes, technically they had to buy a laptop and had to be connected to the internet, but in the developed parts of the world, those are marginal costs. You could say that they were lucky, and they just happened to find Bitcoin in 2009. They were fortunate, but they also had knowledge. They noticed potential in brand new technology and believed in it.

After eight years of think-tanks, learning from mistakes and creating new visions, after hundreds of hours of writing and correcting open source code, and many sleepless nights, the first block on the Qortal Blockchain was minted on June 29th, 2020. This is how the history of the founders of Qortal unfolded. They offered the possibility for every human on the planet, including You, to join Bitcoin 2.0, Bitcoin for the People.

If the market cap of old Bitcoin keeps getting bigger and bigger, it will more and more become the property of the rich and corporations. On the contrary, if Qortal is becoming bigger and bigger, so does its community, which creates the DAO (decentralized corporation), the property of all those creating the Qortal community. If You have a computer and internet, now even You can begin minting something "for free", and You can sell it for whatever price You want.

The Economy of Qortal

Qortal is just, because everyone is beginning at the same level, at level 0. If You would like to begin minting QORT, You have to be sponsored by someone who has been minting for a long time, someone who has reached level 5 or higher, or is a member of an early community. After finding Your sponsor, You have to be synchronized with the platform for 7200 blocks (which takes about a week). After that period, You are Initiated by getting level 1. From level 1, You can begin minting QORT on Your own. To reach level 5 in order to sponsor someone else, You must be synchronized with the Qortal Blockchain for about 14 months. It is Your Baptism.

This time is necessary to understand the vision of Qortal, thanks to which You will be able to sponsor everyone who is asking You for it.

The current number of people whom You can sponsor at the same time is five new members. In the future, this number will be changed by voting, but at the early stages of the project, an increased number of invitations is necessary for the faster growth of the community.

When the account is not connected to the network, because, for example, the internet or the computer turned off, the QORT stops being minted. If the founders of Qortal stop being connected to the platform, also they won't be rewarded with their share of QORT.

In Qortal, You can ultimately reach level 10. Level 10 does not mean winning the Qortal game; it simply means being a mature member of the community. It is Your Maturity. Level 10 is the highest level You can possibly reach. We are all equal on this level. If all children would constantly print QORT from the beginning of their birth, their maturity would fall at around 8 years old.

The current speed of minting QORT equals 4,75 QORT minted per 1 block. Each new block of the Qortal Blockchain is created at around 60 seconds. It means that about every minute, each currently synchronized member receives divided by everyone, equal to their level amount of QORT.

Level 0, with which You begin after creating an account, receives 0% of QORT and must be sponsored through 7200 blocks (which takes about a week) by someone who has level 5 or higher, alternatively by a member of an early community or a founder, to reach level 1 and begin minting QORT on Your own. People with levels 1 and 2 get 5% of the 4,75 QORT currently minted per block. Each higher level receives a bit more QORT, as they are synchronized with the network for longer time. Level 3 and 4 receive 10%, level 5 and 6, 15%, level 7 and 8, 20%, and levels 9 and 10 receive 25% of the 4,75 QORT minted per block. This mechanism provides an equal distribution of QORT to everyone, depending on how long You are synchronized with the network.

The speed of minting QORT per block right now equals 4,75 QORT. Every 6 months, this pace slows down by 0,25 QORT until it reaches 2 QORT. Then the speed of minting goes through the yearly voting, where the speed of change can not be higher than the range between 0,25 and 1 QORT. For example, if we are voting to change the speed of minting when we have 2 QORT minted per block, the only possible choices will be: 1, 1,25, 1,5, 1,75, 2, 2,25, 2,5, 2,75, and 3 QORT per block. The minimal speed is 1 QORT, and the maximal speed cannot be higher than 5 QORT.

Qortal does not have a maximum number of QORT that can be minted. New QORT is minted all the time on all currently synchronized accounts, which means there is enough for everyone.

The higher level You have, the power of Your vote during decentralized ballots is more important, until You get to level 10, where we all have the same power of vote.

In order to receive QORT, You have to give something. It is Your time. You don't have to click or confirm anything. It is enough that Your account is now synchronized with the Qortal Blockchain. Because You are an active member of the community, You are rewarded for Your contribution by making sure that the whole network is more decentralized and more secure.

Communication with the sponsor is an organic human interaction that works on the rule: "Here You have — Thank You." It is an irreplaceable element of Qortal, which actively blocks corporations from creating monopolies on minting QORT.

Just think about it. Would anyone work for any corporation, "asking" Qortal community members to sponsor accounts? The accounts that would generate passive income for the corporation, when this worker could do the same thing at home. When corporations would like to begin minting QORT, it will begin self-destruction of their operating structure.

After eliminating the greed of corporations, we just need to eliminate the greed of an individual, who is restrained from creating many accounts by the Organic Proof of Humanity and the time necessary to reach level 5 anyway. To eliminate greed of an individual, You need to understand the values of our community.

Qortal is not a machine for printing money, but the most interactive game in the world.

If we would like to win in Qortal, the creation of many accounts and an attempt to mint QORT for the greed of money and profit won't change a thing. If those are Your motives, You have to refresh the Golden Rules of the Game.

The Golden Rules of the Game

In the Game of Qortal You do everything in Your power to make sure that You are synchronized with the Qortal Blockchain Network right now, minting QORT on Your account. You help Your relatives and those You care about the most, so that they also do not waste their precious time and join our community ASAP.

If they don't know how to install Qortal Core and Qortal UI, You can teach them. If You don't know how to install it, You can visit one of the Qortal websites and watch the instruction.

The game is won when the last person joining Qortal does not have to and does not want to sell their minted QORT for any price, because we all understand that QORT is priceless, just like our time.

Unlike in money-based systems, where the first has the first mover advantage, in Qortal we all win at the same time, when the last person decides not to sell their QORT for any price.

The price of QORT rises to infinity, and at the same time, the belief in the value of money disappears.

It is true: "All for one, one for all."

In this way we made The Great Transition. The Transformation of the System; The Revolution of Values from the system based on Greed for Money and Profit, to the system based on Sharing and Not Expecting Anything in Return.

The Real Currency of Qortal (the #QQQ) are phrases like:

...Here You have, Not a big deal, Excuse me, I feel sorry, I forgive You, Hi, Hello, How are You, Good morning, Good night, See You later, Have a great day, Have a great life, Enjoy, Good luck, I am sorry, I love You, Please forgive me, Thank You...

Share them at Your Will...

During the transition period from the old system to the New Earth it is sometimes possible to get lost in the monetary hiccup and forget that the New Earth is being created in Your mind at this moment. If You would like to begin the day with a fresh start, record those Lofty Questions on Your phone and listen to them after You wake up or whenever necessary. They serve the purpose of prayer. You do not have to answer them. The answer is already contained in the question. They are answered by Your subconscious. Those are the questions for the mind operating in the old system and the affirmations for the mind connected to the New Earth. Just rest and listen to them if You forgot who You are or why You came here for:

3.3 Lofty Questions

Why am I ...?...

Why am I choosing to be kind, even if I know that I'm right;

Why am I winning every morning with excellence;

Why am I choosing my response to the stimulus;

Why am I aware of who I am;

Why am I knowing present moment;

Why am I generating content enlightenment;

Why am I eternally grateful for my existence;

Why am I living such an amazing life;

Why am I exceeding all my expectations;

Why am I at the top of my game;

Why am I having it all in life;

Why am I balanced in every area of my life;

Why is every area of my life in perfect alignment;

Why am I having perfect timing;

*"Nature, clean air, happiness, creation of beauty, love, kindness, presence. The New Earth is everything that we feel with lightness and contentment in our hearts. It is what creates more and more abundance. The dance of matter and energy, emptiness and form. Creation of communities. Transformation of space. Unstoppable creation of beauty."
~ Pratma Shiva*

*"Peace, harmony, love, cooperation, and respect for the Earth and everything on it. The creation of values at the local community level and the spread of these values throughout the world. Networking that maintains the uniqueness and originality of an individual and their local community."
~ Bogdan Kazimierski*

I hope that now You feel the power of our community.

It is "Checkmate and Game Over" for all systems based on money. The victory in Qortal means the end of the game of exploitation, corruption, and practically all the problems that have bedeviled mankind for the last 10 000 years.

From now on, the community
accepts payments only in #QQQ.

We use The Real Currency of Qortal every day, and we know this game very well, as our parents taught us those rules when we were little children. Your brain can mint #QQQ all the time, and it is an infinite resource. This is where Your resourcefulness comes from. Everybody is rich in #QQQ.

Everyone is already a millionaire.

Paying with #QQQ still functions among circles of family and close friends. The only thing we have to do now is to extend our family and friends to the whole human family. Interactions with "strangers" became dimmed by the ignorance, so instead of authenticity and gratefulness, we began to exchange with the faith in the value of money and numbers on the screen.

If every person from birth would be synchronized with the network, the amount of QORT would be dependent only on Your age. The older You are, the more influence You have until You reach level 10, where we all have the same influence. Reaching level 10 means becoming a mature member of the Qortal community.

Qortal is a multi-generational game. You can pass Your time to Your children, giving them Your Secret Keys to Your account. The Secret Keys are generated when You are creating a new account. The keys are 14 randomly generated words from the dictionary. In the event that You forget the password to Your account or Your computer breaks down, those keys are a way to restore Your account and all data. You can also download Backup File from the security settings and keep Your keys offline. It is Your Secret Keys thanks to which You are Your own independent bank. It is Your Private Keys that provide Your freedom and sovereignty. The Private Keys are a secret that belongs only to You. It is a secret that connects all Qortal community members. Do not write Your secret phrases on a computer, phone, and moreover on the internet. Write them by hand on a piece of paper and store this paper offline and in a safe place, because in the decentralized world, You will not be able to call the support center. Private Keys are a big responsibility. I hope that You are mature enough to take good care of them. Protect them against fire. Bury a copy in Your garden, memorize them mnemonically or create a poem that You will tell Your children before bed.

"As a citizen of the New Earth, I am an unconditional and selfless creator of the world, health, happiness, and respect for every living being. I am invisible and untouchable to everything that harms mother nature, Gaia"
~ Dianna McKenzie

"On the New Earth I am living in absolute happiness, health, and abundance. Everything supports me, and all actions are for the benefit of all humanity. Freedom of choice, love and peace."
~ Aida Aliyah

"A free world full of free people who are aware of who they truly are. Love and light. The New Earth is here. I can feel it. It is our connection to the heart." ~ Arthur

"Our hearts are full of happiness and serenity. We follow our passions. We create beauty with our connection to Oneself and to everything around us."
~ Cheng Wei

*"The Earth is shining with the light of love so much that it is even visible from distant galaxies. Humanity woke up and shares love, caring about one another, the Earth, nature, animals, and plants. All humans and animals have plenty of healthy and diversified food. Everyone is connected to the source."
~ Omondi Nana*

*"We have all we need. Money became useless, so it disappeared. Everyone brings one's own contribution to the society. Voluntarily, automatically, thanks to one's talents. No envy, no competition."
~ Sunan Thaksin*

"New Earth is surrounded by the warmth of the sun's energy and bathed in the vibration of love. Respect, gratitude, emanation of light in every breath, and knowledge of who I am. Being content with Oneself. Fulfilling, pleasing, and noble work that comes from the heart." ~ Chiyembekezo Olufunmilayo

*"We are standing on the shoulders of the giants behind us."
~ Isaac Newton*

Copyrights and patents are really an awful capitalist BS, created for the sake of profit. It is an unnecessary obstacle, blocking the progress and development of our civilization. How can anybody claim ownership of anything? You got everything for free.

We have to patent it!

Did You pay for being born?

Let's take a pen as an example. Did You come up with the idea of the pen? No. The creator of a pen is long gone. The pen was here before You were born. Thanks to the pen You can write down new ideas for which You now want proof of ownership. You will even blatantly sign Your papers with the pen that You got for free. Will You share the profits with the creator of a pen? Probably not.

We own a little bit of everything equally. The analogy of the pen can be extended to practically everything. Did You come up with the lighter, sewing needle, drinking cup, or computer? I doubt it, yet those tools allowed You to create something for which You now want to claim money and acts of ownership.

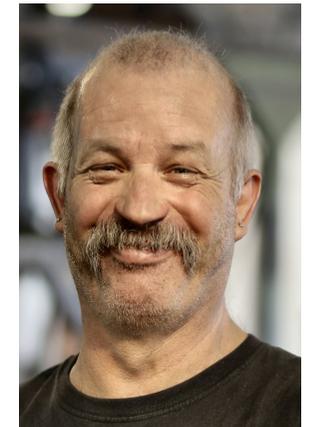

Fortunately, there is a model of creation that recognizes that we have to work together. It is called "Open Source." Open source means that the basis of creation is open to everyone willing to contribute or use it for anything more than gratitude. The code created in an open source way allows everyone to collaborate and learn from mistakes. Everyone who knows programming can have his or her unique contribution, making the whole system better. Open source is the opposite of patents and licenses. Systems like Linux, Qortal, LineageOS, OpenStreetMaps, and apps like LibreOffice, OrganicMaps, Torrents, IPFS, or VLC are created in exactly this way. Anyone can use it for nothing more than to express gratitude to the talented programmers who provided You with this technology.

~ Catarina & Noeal Does

"Purity and clarity of the mind. Robust, strong, and healthy bodies. Healthy nutrition is available to everyone. A piece of land for everyone. Houses built using smart technologies, yet grounded, using natural, healthy resources. Respect for mother nature. Herbs and herbal remedies. Healthy education that shapes smart and beautiful beings. Living in contentment. "

"World based on truth, love, gratitude, respect, and happiness. Everyone does what he or she likes. Abundance and fulfillment prevails everywhere." ~ Arkadiy Vyacheslav

The New Earth is a symbolic Heaven on Earth that blossoms in us. Created by hearts and navigated by hearts. Everything that can't be named is possible, as it comes from the heart. I put the energy of love into these words that are flowing from the bottom of my heart straight to You, painting those divine colors of Oneness. Just feel it." ~ Arona Katalin

*"Heart full of love for Oneself and to the Universe. Knowing one's own power and understanding the soul's plan. Gladness, love, lightness, oneness, compassion, communication without devices."
~ Saga Bjorgson*

*"We have time. We are all immersed in love and truth. We know what each one of us is bringing to the world and we feel the happiness of coexistence. Our hearts are connected to the source of love. We adore love. We practice it."
~ Kristofer Aron and son Lorant*

*"There is only one truth, and we all see it. There is no leader, because people can collectively organize for the common good. On the basis of previous truth and values, borders are unnecessary. An abundance of food is available for everybody. There is no war, as the truth is not creating any other divisions. Love is what binds people and their actions together."
~ Zahara Atrah*

1.3 It is the Financial Advice

"Never be fearful and never be greedy" ~ Simon James

The genius of Qortal rests in fact that it removed the need to have a lot of money at the start in order to have more influence in the network. It eliminated the rule of the first mover's advantage. On level 10 we are all equal. We all walked different paths to reach the peak, but the view from the top of the mountain is always the same.

The currency of Qortal is time, represented by QORT, Your Proof of Contribution to the whole network. If someone is selling their QORT, it is like selling their time, and time is priceless. Never sell Your time, unless You are forced by the old system. Treat Your minted QORT as life insurance. The price of QORT is only dependent on the price at which You are willing to sell it. If You will for example mint 1 QORT in a week, You can set a selling price at 1 000 000 USD, if You think this is how much Your time is worth. The price of QORT is the biggest joke on Earth, just like the joke of the price of Bitcoin or Dogecoin.

If You are a rich investor and are thinking about how You can make money on QORT, realize that investing in QORT is like investing in the internet or time. During the transition period, time has its old, capitalistic price, valued at 1 USD for 1 QORT at the time of writing this guide. Time however is really priceless, and if someone decides to sell their minted QORT, it is like selling their time, which is an act of tremendous desperation.

Investing in QORT and buying it now is like buying BTC in 2009. It is a joke. Buying QORT is unnecessary because You can mint it for free. Qortal is the ultimate troll of all systems based on money. Know, that when buying QORT, You have to account for its price growing exponentially to the infinity and disappearing at the same time. If You are Playing Qortal, You know in the back of Your head that You are saving Your time in the form of QORT, and it is Your insurance in the old system. If You really need to, You can sell it and realize Your capitalistic needs.

If You bought everything You wanted to buy and did everything You wanted to do, then there is nothing more satisfying than sharing, and not expecting anything in return.

The money of Qortal belongs to us all.
The value of QORT is priceless in the old system,
and worthless on New Earth.

On New Earth we are only paying with #QQQ, described in The Golden Rules of the Game.

#QQQ is the currency of the Organic Blockchain
of the Universe, that Qortal is built on top of.

Understanding these values opens the portal to reality. You can finally rest in gratefulness and begin living. What Qortal really has to offer is the community with a totally restored value system. Imagination creates reality. Qortal is the platform, Qortal is the matrix, Qortal is the zeitgeist that

"On the New Earth we live as love. We are like children that are playing, that are living in this moment, creating and standing in awe of our creation. We feel light and safe. Love is coming from the infinite source that is filling our bodies and houses, our cities and the entire planet. That is how it is."
~ Christophe & Marie Arlette

"We are conscious citizens of the New Earth with a spirit connected to the source of all existence. We are radiating love and gratitude, and we are in a state of flow, creating and exploring. We live in abundance and well-being. We live in resonance and harmony with nature, which constantly surprises and inspires us. We communicate telepathically. We act from the wisdom of the heart and the power of the mind that is fueled by intention. It is the world of acceptance and observation that transcends divisions and differences." ~ Suzanne Simonne

"Terra Matter. A pale-blue marvel in the Universe, the home of the human. The Place of coexistence of Human Beings. Coherence of our heart and mind that goes together with nature and lives as nature. Our body and mind are in excellent health. Cooperation in the flow of life. Turning on yet unknown functions of human instrument, that provide freedom, creativity, and exploration of the worlds in the name of love, that bonds everything into One. The totality of existence in the kaleidoscope of flowing energy." ~ Martin Noam

*"Beautiful nature, saturated with the colors of a rainbow. We live among greenery and animals with love and understanding. Simple and satisfied."
~ Andrzej Kiermachowski*

runs through every aspect of life. Qortal provides a new operating system for those ape ancestors, whom we are, living on this planet we called Earth in a more reasonable and intelligent way. Nobody can lose in Qortal, and everyone has an equal opportunity to begin minting QORT. We can just operate in one of two states. State one is not winning yet and state zero is winning already.

Victory in Qortal eliminates the division on rich and poor.

If we called ourselves thinking people, Homo Sapiens Sapiens, why can't we understand that we all are one big human family, and we have to work together to create happy, healthy, and exciting future for our next generations?

Together we stand, divided we fall.

Isn't that our common global goal?

Isn't the "Divide and Conquer" ideology our common global enemy?

"On the New Earth men and women stop competing with each other. They are together because they want to be, not because they must. One is not better than the other. They are mutually fulfilling each other's needs. A man provides what is masculine and a woman provides what is feminine. Love between them is healthy, absent of fear. Full of freedom, beautiful and deep sex. Love, harmony, and happiness. Beautiful nature and perfect health. Gratefulness and coexistence." ~ Mihail & Pelagria

"Free is the Earth and we, the beings of light, together with it. We are fully aware of who we are, and we create from a place of love towards everyone. We have natural telepathic communication abilities with everyone on the planet and throughout the Universe. We stay in close contact with our relatives." ~ Sofia Dietlinde

2.1 God rules the World

Qortal is an educational game, providing a transitional platform from the systems generating corruption, greed, or envy, to the system based on authentic love to Your neighbor.

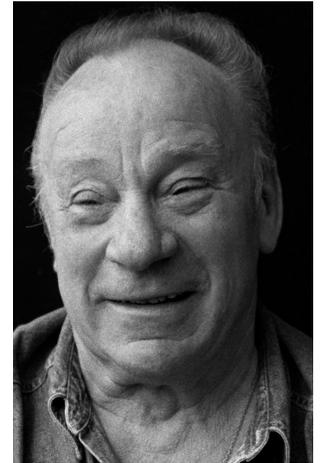

Jesus, it doesn't matter if he was a real figure or not, fathered a few wise sentences, with which we all intuitively agree.

One of them suggests to treat Your neighbor as Yourself, or do as You would be done by. Jesus knew who he was. He was a man who said that he is the son of God. Jesus was a person who said that he is God, and his body was killed for it.

"On the New Earth we are filled with well-being on all levels of isness. The inner power and talents are at our disposal. We can harness the power and wisdom of our ancestors in order to create a world full of love, acceptance, and understanding."
~ Aleksandra Kolenko

"Hugging people with no restraints. Spontaneous bursts of laughter, yoga of laughter, and joy of life. Always saying a good word that enriches hearts. The Earth's landscape is full of beautiful trees, especially where they were cut down. Beautiful houses and gardens. Full sovereignty." ~ Włodzimierz Wielkopolski

"Peace, harmony, and mutual respect. Optimal energy and vulnerability toward others. Empathy and resonance with nature. Beauty, goodness, prosperity, contentment, brotherhood, the sun, and freedom."
~ Keith Grier

*"The only superior law is The Law of One:
"Don't hurt anyone, and approach everything with love. No more laws are necessary." ~ Roxanne Dixon*

His death came about because of the misunderstanding of what he meant. Jesus didn't mean that he and only he is God. Jesus said:

"I am" is the name of God.

It is precisely You.

"I" symbolizes Your consciousness.

Jesus understood that by doing something to others, he is actually doing it to Oneself, as we are all One. Attitude of Jesus is purely egoistic stand, if You understand who You truly are. Christ Consciousness, Super Ego, or dissolving Your little ego means that You see Yourself in the eyes of others, because You understand that "I am, Here and Now" is the only possible state of existence in the Universe.

*"We experience Heaven on Earth. We have access to the source. We are all floating in the infinite ocean of love. We live in a world where people speak in the language of love.
We leave with respect for each other and for everything that surrounds us. With respect to all plants and animals."
~ Laraine Beverley*

*"The New Earth is Heaven on Earth.
Heaven is within me and within my children. I am aware of my power of creation. I live among luminous beings." ~ Jameela Shakira*

Everyone knows being "I". Who do You think is writing/reading these words at this moment? I. Yes, it is You. Being egoist doesn't always have to be negative. Being Super Egoist and seeing other beings as Your own is the highest form of good. If good means anything, it certainly means that You don't want to hurt anyone. You are so egoistic that You wouldn't do anything to Your fellow neighbors, that You would not like to experience for Yourself. Now You understand that someone else is "I am" just like You are "I". It is the basis for understanding compassion and forgiveness.

You are God. Just realize it.

If You haven't found this out by Yourself,
nobody woke You up, or You simply forgot,
I am reminding You right now.

Christ Consciousness is pristine, unadulterated, pure and sinless, just like the consciousness of new born baby.

Pure observation of reality.

The stands of Jesus seem more like being a monk or a shaman, than seemingly built upon his teachings Christianity that forgot to mention waking up to enlightenment, which is the key component for understanding the promise of the eternal life after death. There is no life without death, no black without white, no positive without negative, no good without evil. No You without others.

"Every being is conscious of its power of creation. Everyone takes care of every other being because You understand that Your well-being depends in the well-being of mankind. Every being is characterized by a smile. If not the physical smile, then the inner smile. Everyone knows that the New Earth is an organism. It is us. We take good care of our new houses, new gardens, animals, and our neighbors. We build together, sing together, dance together, and eat together. Everything is pleasurable, even sweet after carrying heavy weights. We know our common goal. We coexist in harmony and love with all of existence. We know very well who we are. Consciousness connected to everything and consciousness of the power of creation flowing from the infinite source."

~ Eva, Yustina and Aksinya, three best friends

"Fully transparent consciousness of universal Oneness. Peace, love, freedom, contentment, and abundance. Total and radical transformation of competition into cooperation. All-embracing love toward everything on Earth and beyond."

~ Adrian & Filip Torvald

"The New Earth is a planet full of beautiful, healthy, happy, and loving people. All beings work together for the betterment of the whole community. Love, freedom, and the truth. No form of violence or disease. We have Free Will and no one is forcing us to do anything. World without an excess of laws and prohibitions." ~ Seong Yeong

"On the New Earth people are finding out that they are an inseparable part of nature, and the diseases of civilization were caused by our disconnection from nature. As a measure of health, we trust in nature. We come back to ecological farming and vegetable gardens. We use natural products, and we can distinguish which products are real and come from goodness and love and which come from greed for money and profit. Our body is incredibly amazing and can heal itself, as health is the natural state of humans.

Health comes with ease. Disease is just the lack of ease of being. What remains is healthy, natural food and healthy thoughts during the periods of silence." ~ Olga Isaura

"On the New Earth many things do not cost anything, like the water that was provided to us by the creator. Energy and food are produced at a net zero marginal cost, as they are available everywhere. All taxes are relics of the past." ~ Eneira with small Magdalena

"Respect and love for everything around us. Agreement and gladness. Freedom. Tranquility. You can only hear the sounds of nature." ~ Nikola Matija

I am, because You are.

This dual dependency is characteristic for our experience of being a seemingly single individual. Without noticing Your little ego, You wouldn't have a context to understand that You really are the Oneness and an inseparable part of a whole.

Man created God in his image, at the same time as God created man. You are Your own Creator, Master, Guru and Guide. If You are looking for the Guru, You will only find a person who refers to You, as You were God, and You are. I recommend listening to people like Bentinho Massaro, Alan Watts, Jiddu Krishnamurti, Eckhart Tolle, Rupert Spira, Ram Dass, or better yet ...?... , who are phenomenal at describing the perspective of being.

Enlightenment is the inevitable consequence of knowing who You truly are. It is the ultimate red pill from the Matrix that wakes You up from the illusion of being this little mortal ego. The game is over when You discover who You truly are. You drop all attachment and rest as peaceful silence.

You are the absolute. You are the infinite. You are immortal. You are unconditional love. You are Here and Now. You are the Creator of everything that exists. You are the Ruler of the Worlds. It is up to You to determine the trajectory of the next generations. What You are doing right now is what the whole Universe is doing eternally. You are on the other side of the black hole. It is Your Free Will that always comes true.

This is the greatest secret of Life.

You, being Your subjective feeling known as "I", is the original name of God. Existence is all-knowing and all-powerful. You know very well that when some people die, other people are born. They are all You. You can just only experience Yourself one at a time. One time per incarnation. It is precisely the resurrection that You are living right this very moment.

There is no point in cheating, harming, manipulating or lying, as at the very end You are only scamming Yourself. Dissolve Your little ego, knowing who You really are.

The meaning of life is something that is created by each one of us. If You think You can do something, or if You think You can't do something, You are correct in both cases. If You think You are not able to change the world, You are just not the one of those who will.

The only constant is change.

Don't be afraid to venture into the unknown. Don't be afraid to go out of Your comfort zone in order to try something new. Sometimes it is worth to get off Your beaten track and give something new a try, even in the virtual world. You can try a new experiment and start

"All-encompassing, good and beautiful nature and us in perfect symbiosis. There is no lack. Every other human is a brother or sister. Pervasive love, happiness, and serenity True intentions bring magic to life all around us. Peace, progress without useless ratings, connected with the sense that everyone is walking their own unique path. Contentment, playing, dancing, singing, and music.

Holly plants are free and technologies help us restore balance and support nature, just like inner peace. Working for our benefit, no control." ~ Love sends Brooke Family

"Peace, love, laughter, happiness and weightlessness. Free ideas are shared without fear, shame, and rationalism. All-encompassing and such normal as all-existing faith in one's own heart."

~ Joon-Ho Myung

"We are aware of our oneness with the source and the Oneness as the source. We feel that. Unconditional love creates harmony."

~ Aruzhan Saltanat

*"Inner peace and all-encompassing love are shining from every core, infinitely creating a reality based on understanding, respect, and service to all beings."
~ Valeri and Barbare Mariami*

*"Beautiful, clean planet full of free beings filled with love, happiness, gratitude, and respect for all aspects of life. Everyone has everything they need and fulfills their soul's guidance for the benefit to Oneself and the benefit to all. We all live in harmony and prosperity, being grateful for every moment of Here and Now."
~ Manpreet Family*

"Freedom, peace, higher consciousness, goodness, compassion, love, lightness, prosperity, respect, cooperation with nature, creation, brighter and deeper colors of nature and feelings," ~ Wati Nirmala with small Sari

Playing Qortal. The best way to learn is from Your own mistakes.

Mistakes are divine.

Everyone makes mistakes, and understanding Your errors should be celebrated, not punished. Everyone is trying the best they can with what they have. Don't blame flours for making the aesthetic mistakes, just like don't blame humans for being who they are. Everyone is perfect in their own way. You can feel sorry and forgive, forgiving Oneself. Everyone is flaming with light-power, like a fire on a candle.

Sometimes one meeting, one sentence or even one word can change the perspective of the whole life. If someone is shouting "Fuck!", it means that he understood something that wasn't so clear a moment ago. Congratulations! You just understood a new truth. Let the power be with You!

Laughter and jokes are good indicators of understanding.

Qortal also is not ideal, but is way better than anything that could serve our human family. Qortal is the most interactive game in the world, and the word about Qortal is most often shared from mouth to mouth. Victory leads to the re-magnetization of our civilization on the positive path.

From now on, instead of serving Your ego,
You begin to serve God.

2.2 Death

Global monopolies on religion, whether it is Christianity, Islam, Hinduism, transhumanism, or atheism are by the most part out of touch with reality. The mere fact of needing religion is an exhibition of the lack of faith. Although religion originally means "gathering together", throughout the centuries it actually transformed into the form of artificial division of our human family. Religions exploit our intuition for the Universal Oneness of Consciousness, disorienting societies. Religion practically blocked questioning the nature of reality and understanding the truth of being. Commerce and corruption of religions opened the Pandora Box, releasing Hell on Earth. Few versions of religion that came into the contact with the reality originate from the wisdom of Indian and South American tribes together with Eastern Philosophies and the Orthodoxy, although each one of them has their own distortions.

The monetary system is so deeply ingrained in every aspect of contemporary spirituality, that in money-based systems You can't even bury Your relatives without thinking about costs. Organized religion took over the whole business, creating around it the capitalist ritual of death. Buy the mass for "God bless You", and You might get the gravestone at a discount. Pay for the gravedigger, priest, and wait for the best ... till the end of Your life pay the subscription for the place on the cemetery, because when the subscription ends, Your grave place is no longer needed and will be eliminated from the cemetery area.

*"The New Earth is a location, a state of perfect harmony with all beings, nature, and the creation. It is a place where everyone and everything breathes love, and every place is wrapped up in love."
~ Elena Bisera*

*"Without obeying and disobeying. Freedom. Only love fills and revitalizes everything in the Universe."
~ Mphatso Mandla*

*"The New Earth is communication with all beings only from the level of the heart. Mutual respect, kindness, and love are coming straight from the source. An Earth where everyone is happy and full of love. Random people on the street are smiling. Everyone lives in prosperity and abundance."
~ Takako Sayaka*

"The New Earth is the fullness of consciousness that recognizes that we live in a field of infinite potential and that we draw inspiration directly from and as the source. Gratefulness and love, happiness and kindness are the only emotions that prevail."

~ Cheng and Ai Shuan

"Serenity, love, oneness, and goodness for every human. Dualism disappears. Oneness, brotherhood, equality, respect, truth, peace, happiness, health, and abundance prevails for everyone."

~ XiuLan Heng

"The New Earth is a world of dignity. It is a world filled with love, a world full of compassion and mutual cooperation, as every action is a win-win situation. It is the world of oneness and truth. The world of freedom and ease. The world of developing one's passions. The world of the creation of beauty. Bright, clean, pure, good, equal world where energy flows freely."

~ Ivanko Family

The whole theatrics around death became a capitalist comedy-drama. If You thought for Your whole life that there is something wrong with those funerals, You are not alone.

Do we really have to complicate the situation like this?

Can't we just turn body into the dust, and then plant a tree of the choice of the deceased, on his or her ashes? The trees come together as the Holly Forest. Beside every tree, there is a small tablet with a short description of their life-giver. After the funeral, everyone goes to the funeral meal, which is a party where family and friends of the dead person tell each other funny stories from his or her life. Grief arises partially from the basic human feeling of missing someone You love, but mostly from not understanding that there would be no life, if it were not for the death. Why so much grief when the soul goes back to Heaven? Right? When You understand who You really are, the fear of death vanishes as fast as realizing that the poisonous snake lying on Your path is nothing more than a piece of old rope.

The fear transforms into laughter as fast as understanding that "I am, Here and Now" is the only possible existence in the Universe.

In response to the question, "Do You fear death?"
You begin to laugh.

That's how enlightenment looks like.

Outplaying death.

Becoming undone.

Good God, and our Lord give us the eternal rest.
This is the song that I heard under my oak.

In Heaven the only time is "Now". If You can't live in this moment, what is the point of planning for the future?

Every second that passes on the clock is only a reminder of who You are.

Just already always Here and Now.

Die before You die, and You realize that You live forever.

Die like Christ.

*"Whatever I give to others, I give from the bottom of my heart, with no expectations, and it brings me a lot of joy. Happiness that I have something to share."
~ Kasia Pszczółkowska*

*"It's like walking on air. Love, brotherhood, no fight for existence. We live in a natural abundance, which allows us to develop all our potentials for Oneself and others. Serenity and piece at heart."
~ Lila Puanani*

*"New Earth. world without violence and cultural differences. Ease of access to healthy food. Freedom, love, kindness, brotherhood of man; Children are growing up in an environment full of love, respect, and happiness."
~ Adams Family*

"The energy of love is spreading like a mist around me, around us, creating a space of happiness, love and peace. Everyone is realizing their passions, everyone is using their unhindered skills, supporting themselves and others."

~ Teresa Iris

"Love, light. Telepathic communication, support and working together over the differences. Respect for all aspects of life is the norm. Council of the elders. Mutual fulfillment. Development of passions and talents. Feelings that all children are ours, and common care for one another first."

~ Khrystyna Zlat

"People are so wonderful, loving, kind, helpful, happy, full of goodness, even in the crowd."

~ Nam Liem

The magic and comprehension of Christ teachings arises only after death. Only after dropping all desire and attachment. Who was left after body of Jesus died? Christ Consciousness, that is God. Jesus was not afraid that his body is going to die. He forgave those who nailed him to the cross. Jesus died before he died. He knew that his forgiveness will only be an example, the symbol and the teaching of unconditional love. Jesus was certain that after his body dies, the only thing left is God in the form of You, "I", and everyone and everything that can call itself as such. Suchness. Isness. If You can, You are. If You give up and rest as truth, You will be nakedly exposed to indescribable bliss and unconditional happiness, originating from the infinite source at Your heart.

Exercise:

Close Your eyes. For a few minutes start breathing deeply and calmly, trying to imagine the emptiness of non-existence. It is exactly the same state as before You were born.

Three... two... one... let's begin...

Emptiness is form, and form is emptiness. Of course, You can not experience non-existence, as You can only experience Yourself in this moment. Being myself is the divine nature of existence.

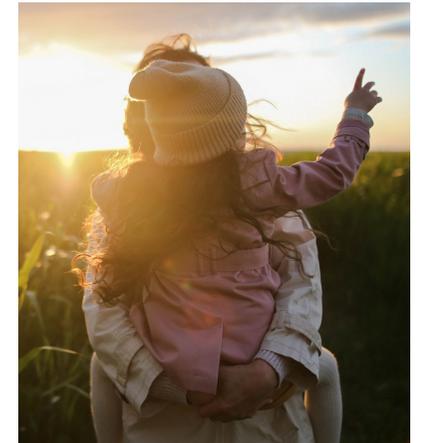

An alien feels human just like You do.

For us humans, breath is life. Thanks to the breath we can control our energy field. If we are in a state of fear, our breath is shallow and fast. If we are in a relaxed state, our breath is calm and deep. In the same way, we can relax our field of vision and observe reality panoramically, even with our eyes closed. When we are stressed, our vision is narrow and focused. When we are relaxed, our vision is gentle, long-distanced, and panoramic. Our heart beats calmly, our thoughts calm down, like the stillness after storm, until our mind becomes empty, like the dark-blue infinite abyss of the deep ocean. This is the way to observe reality. Like a curious child that observes a bird before it even knows how the bird is called. Be like a mirror of water, which in peace, focus, and precision reflects reality.

Noticing the non-existence of Your head in the reflection of a mirror or paying attention to the process of breathing are the exercises that bring You back to the reality.

"On the New Earth, pure and true love is the highest value, from which all ideas and decisions originate. Tolerance, acceptance, no divisions, respect for others, and mutual support. That's just the beginning"
~ Mother Shelly

"On the New Earth love and peace rule the world. People are the Creators of their reality, and they know exactly how to use this power. All blockades and programming disappeared. Energy is flowing freely, and man is filled with its consciousness fully."
~ Helga Sawda

"On the New Earth people live in harmony and respect towards life. We are full of love and light. The decisions are guided by the heart. At school children are taught the truth and they get to know who they really are."
~ Anthony Corlamenti and Emil

New Earth is the land of the free, brave, conscious, self-sufficient, decentralized, sustainable, healthy and happy families and communities. Living together in peace and abundance as one humanity. New Earthians. Connected by love and Qortal. Committing outrageous acts of love like sharing and not expecting anything in return.

Powered by shared being, knowing, understanding, kindness, serenity, contentment, peace, respect, compassion, forgiveness, contribution, service, creating, sharing, no expectation, unconditionality, gratitude, action, spontaneity, flow of adventure, awe, wonder, jokes, lot's of laughter and smiles.

This is what life on the New Earth looks like in my case. It is good to ask other citizens of the New Earth, New Earthians, how do they feel:

Exercise:

How would Your body, mind, and spirit feel like if You were living on New Earth together with us?

*"I feel the New Earth is here already, but on another timeline. I experience it more and more often. It throws me into a more intense world. I feel calmness and the unique happiness of existence. It is beautiful. The New Earth is Here and Now, but on the other side of the mirror."
~ Harrison Bentley*

Where the head supposed to be, there is just the world.

Breath is very practical because You can use it at any moment. Breath is a symbolic cross, that is always with You. You will never loose it. Breathing is a process that happens at the same time spontaneously as it can be controlled. No matter what You do, if You are alive, You can just breathe in, breathe out, or hold the air in the lungs. Observe every detail of this process without painting it with words and thoughts. Notice the change of Your breathing from automatic to controlled.

How is it to become conscious again?

Pure experience in the form of energy that spontaneously arises in the sensory systems of Your body and mind. Don't think that You are thinking, just observe. At the moment when You notice that You were thinking, just name the thought with one word that best describes it, and let it go. The breath will gently remind You that life goes on.

When You meditate, You are fulfilled. You don't need anything from anybody. You have serenity because You know that everything is OK. Even if You die, You know that everything is OK because You cannot experience non-existence. When You die, You come back to the same state as You were, before You were born. Than from the state of nothingness, You just come back to the state of divinity, called "Here and Now."

"To be or not to be" is a rhetorical question.

You can always experience "Being Myself" in this moment, and than You will gently remind Yourself that everything is OK after all. You always get what You want. Even if You do not want something, every cloud has a silver lining. You agree and disagree with everything at the same time. Life is suffering. Suffering is not Yours; Your ego suffers. You are untouchable. You cannot be harmed. The "...I..." is always safe. "I am" is at home already.

Every noun is a process that undergoes constant change. Change is the only constant, like life is death. Even when You change Your body, You are still here. Resurrection is reincarnation. Rest as this moment. The knowing of being spontaneously arises as consciousness. If You can't, just begin again. You will again find Yourself in the state of the world in which You left it. You are a newborn again. That is the life-cycle of the Creator. Consciousness is an instance where all life begins. It is a moment at which the Universe becomes enlightened. You are the collection of the energy, necessary for the Cosmos to become self-aware.

we are organized enough to make decisions in the decentralized government and at the level of Local Groups and Tribes. Old central government, with all of its political theatrics, officials, military, and police can finally retire in peace.

Thank You for Your service.

Military artillery and weapons are remelted into the foundations for the Community Centers and cases for 3D printers. Practically all artificial laws were outdated as they were substituted by scientific and technical solutions. People became problem solvers.

The only law that everyone lives by is the law of God:

“Treat the other as Oneself”.

On New Earth people don't have the "official" name, which has to be written in CAPITAL LETTERS, because they are the property of governments and corporations, but rather we are all natural people, who can change their name at any time if the name You were given since birth does not appeal to You. A new name is most often taken after enlightenment. You can for example name with it Your Qortal account.

Your name is Your NFT.

The final goal of the New Earth is to:

BE HAPPY NOW

How is it to live on the New Earth?

Living on the New Earth is a paradise where peace and love prevails. Everyone is cooperating and nobody is arguing. The constructive feedback form which we all learn is common. There is no envy, just compassion and forgiveness. Everyone knows who we are, and we only wait for a good moment to teach it to our children. There is no flag, but if someone is sentimental, it is possible to convert every flag into the flag of New Earth by cutting a circle in the middle and painting a Golden Ensō Ring around the cutting, the symbol of absolute devotion.

An anthem is Your favorite melody that throws You directly into the state of love and meditation. The New Earth is free from the division into countries. New Earthians do not have proof of division such as ID's or passports. The New Earth is the Global United Kingdom, where everyone is free. On New Earth we admire politicians that served their countries in the old system, but now, because we already have Qortal,

You are the change, You want to see in the world. Your karma is Your intention. What You give out, always comes right back to You. What goes around, comes around.

What kind of the world would You like to create,
so that with gratitude and excitement,
You can again become a part of it?

The answer is shaped only by Your actions in this moment.

Execution is the other name of the game.

Be careful what You do and what You ask for, as everything is saved in the Organic Blockchain of the Universe.

Take absolute responsibility for everything,
knowing at the same time that You are free.

Your life is Your confession.

2.3 Life

One of the better notions passed down from our previous generations is the idea of having only one partner for the entire life.

If You would like to raise a psychologically sane child who is going to raise the next generation of children after You, You have to be a living example of love. Children learn most in practice, observing and mimicking the behavior that they will subconsciously imitate for the rest of their lives. Children are born in a certain state of hypnosis that remains until around the age of 7. The time from conception till the 7th birthday is the most important period of learning for young human, that shapes the psychology of the child for the rest of our life. The child learns about the environment even in the womb. For example, if the mother was stressed, drank alcohol or smoked during pregnancy, the child will have more predispositions towards addictions. After birth, the child takes up even more environmental inputs.

How do we want our species to continue, if we won't share the unconditional love with the person with whom we born and raised the child?

I don't have anything against LGBT groups and so on, but what is the outcome of the situation when we are not able to conceive our own children?

To surrogates? To artificial wombs?
To lab-grown babies? Think about it!

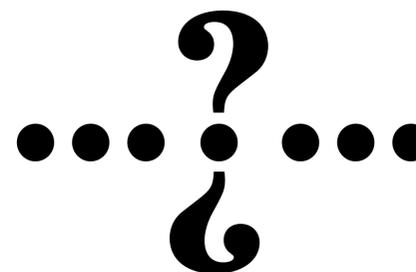

platform that provides a global, decentralized operating system for the entire Human Civilization.

Qortal could be called by any other name. We just need one word to describe our decentralized matrix. At least Qortal is funny, what will irritate central power and corporations that hate when someone is making jokes about them. What is funny in itself.

Qortal fulfills the function of a Joker.

#QQQ is inspired by the Hawaiian Ho'oponopono Technique, and by the Old Man Laughing HiuHiuHiu

#QQQ is the eternal laughter
of the Organic Blockchain of the Universe.

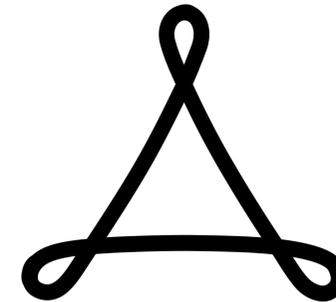

In the era of automation and technological abundance in products and services necessary to live in health and happiness without using money, we don't have to worry about survival, as we were provided with those basic means by our predecessors. Thanks to science, technology, and automation we can provide basic, necessary tools and information available to everybody without the need for trade. If there is a job that nobody wants to do, it becomes automated.

On the New Earth, the highest virtue is sharing, and not expecting anything in return. We don't even expect a "Thank You." Use of The Real Currency of Qortal is a nice, unexpected bonus, with which we are pleasantly surprised with. We just contribute to the prosperity of the whole system, motivated by gratitude for the gifts we have been provided since our birth by our parents, community, and our ancestors. The easiest way to visualize it is like an eternal, global, automated "All-Inclusive" holiday, for which we are so grateful that the goal of our life becomes to develop and contribute to the system that generates such abundance and prosperity.

If we are following our passion from childhood, it could be science, technology, IT, engineering, automation, architecture, sport, medicine, history, philosophy, or art, and we are provided with safety and autonomy to express our interests and visions, then naturally we are most satisfied when we see the gratitude in the eyes of others for our multi-generational contribution that made the whole system work better. Work is a pleasure. We are all connected to the Human babies are born naturally from the womb of a woman, called the mother, who becomes pregnant with her partner, called the father. The father is a man and the mother is a woman. Father, mother, and child create a divine, unbreakable, infinite triangle of love, called the Holy Trinity, or Trinfinity.

The child grows up and finds other adult children of the opposite sex. Partners connect in the tantric act of love, during which the woman becomes impregnated after the ejaculation of a men's semen during orgasm. Orgasm is a mystic state of ecstasy that is the symbol of unity with the Universe. Orgasm is the meditation and contemplation on the meaning of life and our existence. Of course, nobody has to have children, and the idea of celibate, with the intention of service towards other children of God, is very noble.

Not all priests must restrain from having children to fully commit to the service. Dear priests, if You are reading this material, You have permission from me to find a partner and pledge her unconditional love till the end of Your life. It would be cool if You would have a couple of children, as the problem of infertility is bigger than we can imagine. I personally recommend the book written by Shanna Swan called: "Count Down," which goes deep into the problem of infertility and provides practical solutions for increasing the probability of fertility, mainly by eliminating environmental toxins.

Our species is on the verge of extinction, contrary to what the media propaganda is telling us. Media sponsored by "philanthropists" like Uncle Gates, Klaus Schwab, George Soros, descendants of the old Rockefeller, Rothschild, and other Jeffrey Epstein friends, who think that we have to reduce the human population at all cost, because otherwise a great catastrophe awaits us.

Under the pretext of good intentions,
the road to hell is paved with bad intentions.

Depopulation is an old Malthusian ideology,
that has nothing to do with reality.

The goals of reducing the human population by about 92%, so from 7 800 000 000 people to 500 000 000 people and so on, were sculpted into the rock called:

global natural resources in order to estimate the most sustainable method of production, organization, and distribution of goods. With time, even houses and Centers are created in 3D printers and transported to the destination by autonomous drones. The entire logistics process is automated. People around the globe are connected by fast and safe public transport in the form of mag-lev trains. Everyone can go wherever and whenever they want. The private properties disappeared as they were given back to the New Earth. Everyone can get a piece of earth. Nobody is locking the doors. Everyone knows and respects his place as well as the places of others. Everyone has a home to come back to and is always supported by the community. Insurance does not exist. In case of an emergency, everyone has access to the best medical and technical care and support.

Each Tribe has drilled a well, providing fresh drinking water. Each Tribe has a building in the central part of the village that serves as the local Community Center. In the Center there is a school, sport halls, saunas, swimming pools, cold plunge pools, 3D printers, food buffets, medical points, stops, museums, rooms for travelers, rooms for sharing useful equipment, tools, books, or rarely used or unnecessary items or clothes.

The Community Center is a new version of a church.

100 closest Tribes are creating a "Local Group". The version of the decentralized city. At the center of the Group, there is a decentralized management and production center that is connected with other Groups. Eventually the Tribes will be designed intelligently, as it was proposed and outlined by Jacque Fresco from the Venus Project. Computer systems are monitoring and tracing local and

"Georgia Guidestones"

Satanists are scaring people with inquisitions, wars, pandemics, vaccines, they collapse supply chains, they close You in concentration camps and at home prisons, they sponsor protests, and help the sun with weather control by geoengineering, at the same time blaming You for climate change.

Does Your "toxic" exhalations of carbon dioxide and burning wood in the fireplace also result in an increase of the temperature on all the planets in our solar system?

In our geological history we had way higher concentrations of this gas than we have now. Plants breath in this gas. More than carbon dioxide, I would be worried about solar cycles that control the climate of our solar system, sun explosions (called CME), volcano eruptions, the weakening of Earth's magnetic field, methane released from the bottom of our oceans and from the Siberian tundra, and geoengineering which is the process of releasing heavy metals and other toxic chemicals into the atmosphere by airplanes, and than controlling the air masses thanks to the HAARP facilities that are scattered all around the globe. They help to control the weather in the short term, having long-term destructive effects on the climate and the ozone layer. If weather modification operations had never been launched, our planet would have had much greater chances of restoring the balance after military-industrial pollution, as a side effect, the negative externality of the old capitalist system of consumptionism.

We are the environment, and it is obvious that we cannot pollute the water we drink, the air we breathe, and the Earth on which we grow our food, as with time it will have a self-destructive effect on all of us.

Unfortunately, under the pretext of sustainability, with the real intention of eugenics and depopulation, satanists want to take absolute control over all global infrastructure. It is easier to manage fewer people, or as it was framed by Zbigniew Brzeziński: "In the past it was easier to control million people [for example, with religion in the middle-ages], but now it is easier to kill a million people."

The cult of death wants to tell You, to hate
Yourself and others for Your existence.

3.2 Living on New Earth

"It is not a measure of health to be well adjusted to profoundly sick society" ~ Jiddu Krishnamurti

If we don't want to become slaves of a global totalitarian technocracy controlled by a few corporations, then it is enough that we are actively creating decentralized communities and systems for the restoration of Oneness that are synchronized with our evolutionary past.

I propose organizing life in decentralized, self-sufficient communities with no more than 300 people. We can call them "Tribes". Every Tribe is raising animals in biodynamic way to provide quality meat and animal products, to restore the soil and to have natural fertilizer for the plants. We have depleted our soil because we are farming plants and plowing the soil every year. If the soil is exposed to direct sunlight and rain, UV rays kill soil bacteria, and water depletes minerals. The only solution is to grow the grass with local herbs so that the animals that are ranging freely on this terrain are going to regenerate it by pooping everywhere and providing organic fertilizer. Thanks to this biodynamic animal farming, we can provide real food and restore disrupted ecosystems.

The Tribes are powered by their own electric plant, which comes from the most efficient, sustainable and local sources. It can be solar power, wind power, energy from the river or geothermal.

Did You feel the texture at the tip of Your finger? That was the energy necessary to fully update. From now on, the Revolution of Values is fully functional.

Bravo! Hurrah! Congratulations! Success!

The system of sharing and not expecting anything in return was updated correctly. Now You can use it in practice, starting with every other interaction. The Real Currency of Qortal, the #QQQ, is printed in Your mind and it is ready now, just waiting to be used. You can use it at every moment. It is infinite and will never run out. Like love, it is an infinite resource. You are free to share it with others at Your Will.

The victory is just the beginning. After victory, Qortal leaves us with the whole decentralized infrastructure, which we can use and develop for the next generations. We needed a good shakeout so we could wake up from the monetary hiccup, getting back in touch with reality and our roots in modern style.

That's how we became biohackers: people that use modern science, technology and automation combined with the ancient wisdom of our ancestors to elevate the quality of our collective human experience.

"Prince Philip" said that when he dies, he would like to come back on Earth in the form of a deadly virus, which apparently worked out for him. The favorite saying of the satanists goes:

"People are a virus (or cancer) on the planet."

When in reality, it is exactly the opposite. The thought that people are a cancer is a virus in the minds of the psychopaths. Satanists are experts at turning the meaning upside down and by 180°, which is the inversion of the truth.

"Lie repeated a thousand times becomes the truth."

~ Adolf Hitler

I have a little suggestion for all those that think there are too many people on planet Earth. I propose to be an example for others and commit suicide.

Monopoly on the main media sources, censorship of free speech on the central internet, manipulation of perception by showing personalized content of the internet, global application with Your serial number, global passports, carbon tax with the underlying idea that it is You that is the toxin of this world, dehumanization and mask mandates, social segregation on vaccinated and unvaccinated, lockdowns at home prisons, dismantling of family model, hypersexualization, pornography, promotion of groups that cannot breed their own children, promotion of no meat diets, implanting chips and tracking devices, wireless technologies and ubiquitous EMF everywhere, using estrogenic plastics in the toys, cosmetics and packages for food and drinking bottles, fluoridation of drinking water and chlorination of water in the swimming pools, prescription of pharmaceutical cartel drugs for depression and other psychological states, the escape to the virtual metaverses ...

To organize this society, it is necessary to create so-called "Smart Cities" where everything, including people, will be connected to the 5G grid, called the Internet of Things (IoT). All the people that will take part in this will become "People 2.0", calling themselves the next stage in human evolution, "Homo Deus." People joining this society are promised to receive immortality in the form of eternal life in the cloud.

If You won't wake up, it will be just the beginning of Your suffering.

All those problems disappear when You realize, that this world has no power over You.

"Beyond-government" organizations such as the UN, WHO, WEF, or World Bank are the Trojan Horse that attempts to bring into fruition the dreams of children who, no matter what the cost, want to become the rulers of the world. Their pursuit of power only leads to self-destruction, as we all know this script. These organizations want to tell You, that "You will own nothing and You will be happy", but they forgot to mention that they will own everything

Time is money? Only in the monetary system!
In Qortal, time is priceless.

Playing Qortal restored the original, spiritual Revolution of Values, pioneered by the people that knew who they are.

Our civilization needed an update of the value system, from the system of greed to the system of unconditional sharing.

Exercise:

With the tip of Your pointing finger, touch the finger pointing at You.

At that moment in history, we were ready to shorten the working hours and increase the salaries. We could provide an abundance. That didn't happen. Everything changed in 1923, when Edward Bernays wrote a book called "Propaganda". This book used our ancestral survival instincts to subconsciously manipulate the masses into buying products they didn't need. Propaganda was also used to convince the population to support global conflict, world wars and to take active part in them, by becoming soldiers.

When American President Nixon abolished the Gold Standard in 1971, gold-backed paper no longer represented gold but rather empty faith in its value. That's how the dysfunctional religion of capitalism began. The new system based on trust in the empty value of colorful papers was brought into effect in a very discreet manner, so that people wouldn't even notice how they were duped.

Going further, we have arrived at the current state of affairs. At the turn of the XXI century we entered into the Technological Revolution. World has become divided into poor nations and developed nations where it has become the norm to have a computer at every home. Huge servers of central corporations and smartphones in the hands of every human have become prevalent. The Blockchain technology was then developed, led by Bitcoin, which exposed the hypocrisy and nonsense of the entire fiat money printing machine, powered by banksters. In response to the collapsing system, where few corporations ruled over almost all money and the global central government, the era of Qortal dawned upon humanity, that brought a new currency called QORT, representing the time of the people.

and will be able to do with You whatever they want. Playing Qortal is the exact opposite of this scenario. In Qortal, You own everything and You are happy, because You know that everyone else has just as much as You. Everyone is as rich as You. Everyone has God in heart.

Evil exists, and it is the opposite of love.
Evil is the lack of love.

Don't sign the pact with the devil, don't get another experimental gene therapy, don't accept Your barcode, don't accept Your Global Passport, don't accept Your carbon credit score, don't accept financial aid from the central government, don't accept the terms and conditions of Google, Meta, Apple, Amazon, or Microsoft. Do not let Yourself be manipulated because evil lies. Evil is an awful, deceitful snake that will slowly suck all the life-force power from Your soul. Satan is a corrupt lawyer, that will take Your last gasp of dignity and humanity.

Satanists are adult children who have never experienced love, and they feel cheated, so they at all cost attempt to compensate for the lack of love by becoming God, who one day will rule over the multiverses. You have to realize that the love that escaped You, can be found in Your own heart. I forgive You. I forgive everyone that unconsciously served You, and I love You as much as I love other children of this world. It is time to forgive Yourself too, transforming the system that generates this dysfunction.

Love is the most powerful dissolvent of evil in this world.

To eliminate the satanic cult of death,
we have to know our priority, which is the Family.

The only power that hatred is fearing more than fire,
is unconditional love.

Satanists fear Christ Consciousness so much, that they created a controlled opposition in the form of global religions, which actively blocked questioning of the nature of reality and the inquiry into who we really are.

Nothing irritates the satanic ideology more,
than a self-sufficient, conscious, and happy family.

We need every volunteer that is willing to start a family to do it, finding this one and only partner for the rest of life.

Family is the true Holly Trinity, and we all are connected with each other by love in a certain kind of an Organic Blockchain.

First farms producing excess goods started first markets and exchanges of value based on barter. This worked out for a little while, like I will give You a bag of wheat and You will give me 10kg of meat. Barter is not practical because sometimes there is a situation where I want something that You have, but You don't want what I offer You instead, so to exchange the value, we began to use rare, precious metals like gold. Gold is naturally scarce on our planet and has a very specific golden color that resembles the sun. We have begun to perceive it as valuable. It was a natural process of our evolution in a world of scarcity. In some parts of the world, instead of gold, we have begun to use shells, pearls, or minting coins from silver.

Gold slowly began to be represented by officially looking papers, as it turned out to be impractical, because it is too heavy and hard to transport. On glucose and our first salaries we began to build our first cities and develop trade.
Science slowly began to prosper, and following the science, new innovations that led us to the next revolution. The energy powering another change came from oil and electricity, providing the basis for the Industrial Revolution.
From than on the most demanding tasks became automated thanks to the simple machines. For the first time in human history, we could provide more things that were necessary.
We were using money, and the profit became more important than the good of society. Thanks to the further development of science and technology, corporations became so efficient that they didn't know what to do with the excess of goods. People didn't need much to be happy as all basic human needs were fulfilled.

The chart visualizes 200 000 years of human brain development, where 190 000 years as hunters, living in small communities, and 10 000 years of life as farmers and traders.

From the moment of the Agricultural Revolution, for the first time in the history of our civilization, we began to produce large quantities of food, thanks to which we didn't have to hunt or starve. We began to settle, farm, and grow edible plants. This revolution initiated the era of carbohydrates, consumed in the form of wheat, corn, rice, and potatoes. It provided us with an abundance of glucose, and sugar is addictive. All carbohydrates have to be reduced to sugar in the form of glycogen, which is then let into the cells by insulin.

Family is creating new consciousness "I am".

Parents understand it intuitively when looking their new born baby straight through the eyes into the soul.

The Holy Trinity consists of Three Kings.

Divine energy connects with the divine energy of other Trinfinity, and in this way, we are creating one big human family. In family we are sharing what is the best, and not expecting anything in return.

In the name of the Father, the Mother, and the Holy Child, Amen.

We do not even expect a "Thank You." We are just grateful that we could do something unconditionally for our relatives. We are just grateful that we have something to share.

Living in Heaven is enlightenment, living in Hell is crisis of consciousness.

Consciousness is God, and God is love.

"Happiness is love in action." ~ Dieter Broers

3.1 Transformation of the Society

Adventure and adaptation to new environments are in our genes. We were hunting for animals wherever we went. We are the most dangerous predators on Earth. No fear. It is our unique ability to adapt that makes us unstoppable.

Most of the time, so for around 190 000 years of our history we lived in small, self-sustainable communities, with no more than 300 people. Our brains cannot otherwise comprehend a larger group of friends. We are evolutionarily adapted to live in small settlements that are organized in an egalitarian fashion, led by the rule: "All for one, one for all," cooperating like one big family, sharing hunted goods with all. For example, pregnant mothers received the most precious parts of an animal: raw liver, heart, and brain, as those organs provide bioavailable nutrition necessary for proper development of human embryo.

Our ancestors intuitively knew that it is hard to develop a nervous system or human brain without the vitamins and minerals that are vital to creating it. When a new human baby is born, our baseline state of mind is sharing and not expecting anything in return. For the last 10 000 years, it has unfortunately become plagued by the virus of greed for money and competition.

What happened around 10 000 years ago?

Agricultural Revolution.

What do You say about the business plan of the corporation Monsanto, recently bought by Bayer, that is producing pesticides and herbicides like Glyphoste that are killing all kinds of weeds as well as gut lining and microbiome. Monsanto also produces genetically modified seeds that are resistant against spraying with their own chemicals. A field sprayed with Glyphoste once is useless for years, as there is nothing that can grow there beside GMO patented seeds from Monsanto, which are, of course, becoming more and more expensive. Hundreds of unaware farmers (especially in India) were trapped into this vicious circle. Now they are committing suicides on a massive scale as they cannot feed their families. Satanism in its pure form. Business as usual. Of course, those are just symptoms of a system based on the belief that money rules the world.

God rules the World.

3.0 Returning to the Source

If we would like to have a chance to further prosper and thrive as the humans that we all know and love, and not as a virtual version of Human 2.0, connected to the 5G infrastructure by the chip in the brain, then we have to go back to our roots. To better visualize our situation, we have to look at our existence from a bit different perspective.

As a One Big Family, Human Civilization, Global Village, Holy Trinity, or Body-Mind-Spirit Complex, we are trying to organize life on Earth for more than 200 000 years. We are descendants of the apes that climbed down from the trees in African savanna. Thanks to the unique structure of the opposite thumbs, we were able to use heavy stones and break leftover bones from the predators.

The consumption of precious, hard-to-get organs like the brain and bone marrow provided us with the basic building-blocks of the contemporary brain. Thanks to eating animal leftovers where there are many bioavailable and easily absorbable vitamins and minerals like omega 3 and cholesterol, we began to think more clearly, and came up with better ways to obtain those precious sources of nutrition necessary for building a healthy and robust human organism.

The Primal Revolution for Human Civilization was the Stone Age Era that started with the opposite thumbs, which allowed us to grab heavy stones, breaking skull and bones.

Then we were able to create simple hunting tools. We became human because we started eating meat. There is a reason why our stomach evolved to digest meat with the pH higher than that of most carnivores (animals that only eat meat, such as cats), not to mention omnivores. For over 190 000 years, we were animal hunters and explorers of new territories for hunting. We were living as nomads, going from one place to another. We began conquering all continents. If we couldn't hunt animals, we ate edible plants. Eating plants was a supplement, a survival food. Vitamins and minerals from plants are not easily absorbable, and a lot of their nutritional value comes out the other end. Most of the plants on Earth are unedible or toxic, so early people were very cautious about the consumption of new plants, as they knew that they could die after eating them.

Chronic diseases of human civilization like diabetes, brain fog, Alzheimer's (called Type 3 diabetes), heart diseases, chronic inflammation, and many cancers are sponsored by the cartels maintaining humanity under constant state of burning glucose as a main source of fuel.

Of course, what is the point of changing this brilliant business plan, as we will make money from feeding people junk food, and You will get chronically sick patients to whom You will prescribe drugs provided by pharmaceutical cartels that are going to keep their miserable existence as long as the cartels can profit?

Don't worry about eating local, seasonal, biodynamic and organic products together with respecting our circadian and yearly rhythms. Why tell people to live in harmony with nature and sometimes not eat anything, as it will make them healthy? Not only will they heal naturally, they are also not going to buy our drugs, junk food, and save money as fasting is free.

Our bodies didn't have time to adapt to the abundance of food that we have available now. This is why we are becoming addicted to candy bars, cakes, pizza, burgers, bread with butter and all other combinations of these two macro-elements.

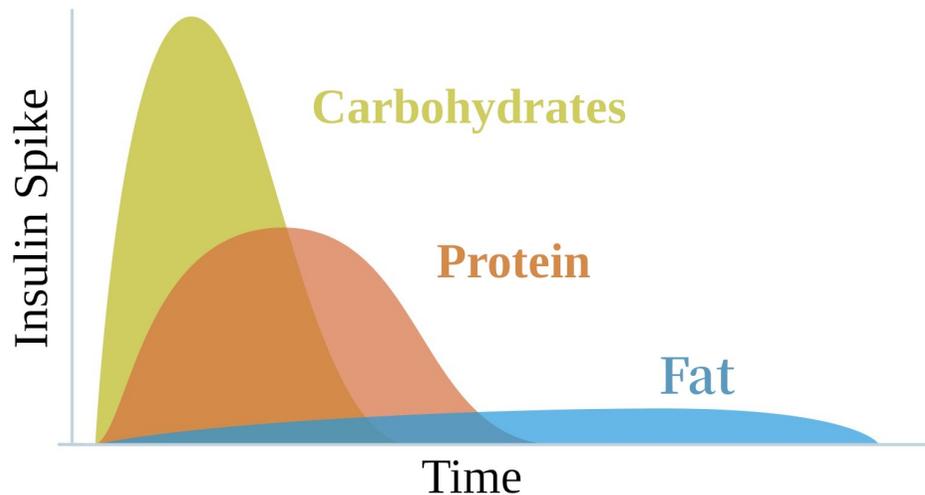

Modern corporations are using our evolutionary adaption of wanting to combine fat and carbohydrates, providing us with this pleasure for an entire year. French fries and chips boiled in vegetable oil. All commercial bars and cakes, bread and potatoes with butter, and all other combinations of these two macro-elements are very destructive when consumed over the long term. Our organism forgets how to effectively burn fat as a result of constant insulin spikes. We lost our metabolic flexibility to change the fuel source that powers our bodies.

The original and basic human diet consists of eating the best-quality, free-ranged animals caught in their natural environment. Eating any kind of wild meat, beef, lamb, sheep, turkey, chicken, and eggs, fish, sea food, caviar, together with the organs like liver, heart, kidneys, testis, bone marrow, or brain, provides the human body with all the necessary nutrition, making us healthy without the need for supplementation. For the majority of our evolutionary history, the main sources of energy came from fat and protein coming from hunted animals. Under the conditions of low carbohydrate intake (that takes place when eating only fat and protein) our organism is maintaining low level of insulin. Insulin is a master hormone that controls glycecy. Depending on what kind of fuel we are using to power our body, insulin is released in certain amounts into the bloodstream.

As long as there is a low and stable level of insulin, our organism begins to metabolize fat as a main source of energy. If You are generally healthy and Your glycecy is correct, then after using fat from the diet, Your organism with no problem continues to burn fat from the body without triggering the feeling of hunger. By eating fat, we are burning fat. Small children are naturally born in a state of fat burning called ketosis. Mother's breast milk, similar to the brain, contains 70% of fat. Fat is the preferred source of energy for our organism. Fat is very efficient in providing our mitochondria with clean energy, leaving behind a lot fewer free radicals, which decreases chronic inflammation, at the same time increasing long-distance energy and clear thinking.

Insulin is raised minimally when we consume fat. Its level increases more when we eat protein, but the biggest spikes of insulin take place after eating carbohydrates.

The mechanism by which instead of burning fat, we are gaining weight by storing fat on our body is triggered by the excess insulin floating around our organism.

A high level of insulin is the biggest factor by which we store fat. It is a very useful evolutionary adaptation, which during summer and autumn months (when local fruits are ripe) prepares our organism to survive a long winter, triggering the accumulation of fat in our body. Carbohydrates, mainly in the form of fruit and honey, but also as roots, leaves, or grains are a part of our evolutionary history too. After the consumption of a meal consisting of lots of carbohydrates, our body reduces them to glycogen, which then has to be let into the cells by insulin.

Besides the fast energy increase, we could also accumulate fat from what we ate, especially when we combined carbohydrates with fat.

Consumption of carbohydrates triggers insulin. Part of it is stored in the muscles and in the liver in the form of glycogen. However, the excess of carbohydrates is transformed by our body into fat, which is then stored on our body. Consumption of especially High Glycemic Index carbohydrates releases significant spikes of insulin, which effectively blocks fat burning. It mobilizes the organism to burn glycogen from glucose instead of ketone bodies from fatty acids. The combination of carbohydrates and fat is a seasonal friend of humans, helping us to store fat, preparing us to burn this stored fat during long winters and lack of food. In the past, we didn't have constant access to food for the entire year, and very often we did not eat anything until we hunted or gathered something.

Fasting is a human thing.

Fasting heals, cleans, and resets the organism. Daily or even multiple day fast from food, has not harmed anybody yet.

If we happened to find a mixture of carbohydrates and fat, our organism rewarded us with a mixture of happy neurotransmitters, called endorphines, subconsciously telling us that we have found a precious treasure in the form of an energy bomb, and we should find more of it because it might not be around for long.
